ROOSEVELT ON EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA TRIP

President On Final Tour Of Keystone State

Speaks At Wilkes-Barre This Morning And Harrisburg This Afternoon

WILL RETURN TO EAST COAST

To Conclude Campaign With Meetings In New York City Saturday

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD PRESIDENTIAL SPECIAL, Enroute In Pennsylvania, Oct. 29.—President Roosevelt left New York City momentarily in the hands of his Republican opponent Gov. Alfred M. Landon, today while he made a final campaign sally into hotly contested Pennsylvania.

Two more vigorous last-minute appeals for popular support in the Keystone State were made by the president in the course of a fast circuit—the first at Wilkes-Barre in the heart of the anthracite mining region this morning, and the second at Harrisburg, state capital this afternoon.

In Philadelphia Later

Dropping south later, Mr. Roosevelt planned to parade through Philadelphia to Camden, N. J., for a third speech and then stop at Wilmington, Del., home of the DuPonts, for a fourth.

Tomorrow night will find him back in Brooklyn seeking further to strengthen his unquestioned majority in Greater New York and Saturday night he will make his

PA NEWC OBSERVES

A man may be all of 82 years of age, but that doesn't necessarily prevent him from painting the tin work high up on the roof of his own home. That's John Sherbine's philosophy, at least. For the past few days Mr. Sherbine, now 82, who lives at 923 Franklin avenue, has been doing that work at his home. Pa Newc understands he did it last year, too.

It was never a mark of courtesy to crowd passersby off the sidewalk when you pass by and it isn't now. Yet a North Hill lady called Pa Newc today to report a George Washington Junior high school group rudely "tramped me off the sidewalk on the North Mercer street hill one morning this week." Such seldom happens, Pa Newc knows—but now and then it does happen, too, on the East street and Highland avenue hills, where those miniature Senior high school student parades go up and down. Show courtesy!

There was a spring-like feel to the air this morning, which was appreciated after the wintry spell of the two preceding days. Perhaps we are in for the so-called Indian summer now.

* * *

Only the more hardy trees continue to bear leaves now, the heavy frost yesterday morning bringing the leaves down in great quantities. Leaves make good fertilizer for the soil, and one good method of disposing of them is to spade them under in the garden, or to store them away somewhere so they can be spaded under next spring.

Police To Arrest Hallowe'en Vandals

Fresh reports of vandalism in various parts of the city have prompted the order to all patrolmen and police cruisers to watch for and apprehend any one wilfully molesting or damaging property in the city.

"There is a wide difference," Mayor Chas. E. McGrath said this morning, "between Hallowe'en fun and Hallowe'en vandalism. Repeated cases of broken street lights and deliberate damaging of private property have reached the point where drastic action must be taken to curb such rowdyism. The Hallowe'en season is no excuse for destructive activities by the young people of the community and we wish to warn parents particularly that severe measures will be resorted to in the case of children caught in such actions. All citizens are requested to report cases of vandalism promptly so that thorough police investigation can lead to the apprehension of the guilty parties."

Hallowe'en celebration in various parts of the city are providing the opportunity for good, clean enjoyment of the spirit of the season. It is unfortunate that some young people must resort to property destruction as a manifestation of this spirit. Citizens will welcome strenuous action on the part of the police to apprehend and make an example of those who adopt this means of obtaining their Hallowe'en enjoyment.

Reunion Opens With Many Here

Large Number Of Out Of Town Members Present At Consistory Gathering

WILL CONCLUDE FRIDAY EVENING

With a large attendance of the membership present from outside points in the district, and many in attendance from the city, the 59th reunion of the Valley of New Castle Consistory opened at the Cathedral Wednesday. There were 15 in the class on the opening day and more are expected today as the degree work progresses.

A great number of Beaver Valley members were here last evening when Puissant Grant Lieutenant Commander and Deputy for Pennsylvania, Ill. John Scofield Wallace, paid an official visit to the New Castle Chapter, Rose Croix.

The attendance this evening and tomorrow is expected to be greater as the other degrees are conferred.

There will be no dinner party on Friday evening because of the entertainment planned for next Tuesday evening when an election return party will be staged by the entertainment committee for the members and their families.

Classes Of 1918 In Reunion

Members of the first and second classes of the Consistory, who were initiated into the order in the high school building in 1918, had a reunion of their own last evening, about 50 being present. They had a section reserved for them at the

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Mr. Roosevelt in his non-political speech to the colored people at Howard University (non-political in the sense that it was not broadcast through the South) says that there are "no forgotten men and no forgotten races."

If the reader will overlook the pun, there is a man and a race, both forgotten. That staunch, old-fashioned Democrat, Mr. Jack Garner, who is making the race for vice president, is still silently holding the fort at Uvalde, a town which you can find on the map of Texas in any good atlas.

"Mr. Jack" made one regulation campaign speech to the home folks, which was broadcast to the nation. This speech also is forgotten. In his days in the House of Representatives Mr. Garner was never known to pass up an opportunity to talk in public. His present silence arouses the suspicion that the New Deal does not quite fit in with his Jeffersonian principles.

Thousands Watch Mummers March Over South Side

Annual Hallowe'en Celebration On Wednesday Night Sets New Record

SCORES AWARDED COSTUME PRIZES

Program Moves In Perfect Order—Weather Adds To Big Success

The South Side outdid itself last night!

An ideal autumn night with a clear moon smiling down between a mass of clouds, more than 10,000 persons, some hundreds of masqueraders of every imaginable make-up, and a parade that was a mile long describes Wednesday evening's colorful South Side Hallowe'en celebration.

By 7 o'clock the district was turned into a metropolis, so large was the throng on hand for the affair. From then on the South Side teemed with action, like it never has before. The mummers were so large in number that the parade was delayed to permit Grand Marshal Ivor Davis and his committees to arrange the divisions.

About 8:15 o'clock, Marshal Davis sounded the starting whistle and another spectacular South Side celebration was on. Heading the parade were two cruiser cars which cleared the way, several young men on motorcycles, followed by Grand Marshal Davis and his first division. The attractively attired American Legion band completed the first division. John Wajert was marshal of the second division, with Major Guy J. Wadlinger at the head of the third division followed by Alex Samuels who was marshal of the last group. Trying to guess the

Lumber Plant Burns At Detroit

Loss Is Estimated At Nearly Half Million Dollars—Five Alarms

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Oct. 29—A spectacular five-alarm fire, which sent flames 100 feet into the air, was burning itself out in the Currier Lumber company yard and shops today after causing $450,000 damage and throwing 450 men temporarily out of work.

Firemen believed the conflagration under control but said the ruins may smoulder for days. One fireman was overcome by smoke but was revived.

The blaze, fanned by a high wind, ate its way through huge stacks of lumber in seven two-story shops in the yard. The flames leaped 100 feet into the air, attracting a crowd of 12,000 to the scene.

New Castle Tin Plant Compiles New High Mark

Nearly 11,000 Visitors See Plant During Community Day, Wednesday

PASSES MARK OF ALL OTHER PLANTS

Mill Officials Exceedingly Well Pleased With Response Of Public

New Castle Works is tops today. Tops insofar as the attendance of Community Day is concerned for on Wednesday, October 28 the plant set a record of 10,955 attending the Community Day. This tops the Shenango by over 900, Shenango having 10,004, and tops Farrell-Mercer Works by more than 200, Farrell-Mercer having 10,741. And today the New Castle Works men from General Superintendent R. E. Sturdy down through the lists are smiling a broad smile of satisfaction.

The Community Day exceeded fondest expectations, Shenango had had its Community Day two weeks ago and it was thought that this would mitigate against the attendance at the New Castle plant. Instead it seemed to inspire a larger crowd and all day Wednesday crowds of men, women and children poured through the plant inspecting the various departments and getting a thrill out of it. Of the total of 10,955, some 2868 were high school students.

Places Becker At Crime Scene

"Star Witness" Takes Stand In Brookville Murder Trial Today

IDENTIFIES BECKER AS MAN AT SCENE

(International News Service)

BROOKVILLE, Pa., Oct. 29.—The commonwealth's "star witness" today placed John Becker, 37, within 10 feet of the spot where Miss Katherine Bracken, 42, a railroad signal tower telegrapher was cruelly attacked, beaten and slashed to death on the night of last April 10.

The witness was none other than Joseph Becker, a cousin of the defendant. Kept under cover of the state police since last April, he was called to the witness stand today.

The cousin told the story of his movements on the night of Miss Bracken's slaying. He had gone to the railroad cars near the tower that night to get coal, he related. He heard moans and a gurgling sound, he testified.

Approaching closer, the cousin said, he saw the outlines of a "man I knew."

"Who was that man," asked the prosecutor.

"My cousin, John Becker," the witness responded.

The witness said he did not speak to the man but went home with his coal and went to bed.

At midnight his mother awakened him and said:

"'Katie Bracken has been murdered'."

The next day the defendant's cousin continued, he met John Becker on the street. The defendant, he testified, ordered him to "shut up." He said, according to the testimony: "It's all over town now."

The state police became interested in the defendant's cousin as a witness. They jailed him at Clearfield and later kept him under watch at Butler.

RUBBISH CAUSE OF BLAZE IN HOME

Central and Second Ward firemen were called to the home of Omar Anderson, of 205 Green street, at 1:30 this afternoon by an alarm from box 18, when they found a blaze in the cellarway of the home, which started in a pile of rubbish. The loss was around $50.

When firemen arrived the smoke was pouring from the home and it was feared there was a bad fire in progress, but it was quickly brought under control.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Turning aside from his presidential campaign to worship at the shrine of the man for whom he cast his first vote, Gov. Alfred M. Landon today planned a quiet visit to the Long Island estate of the late Theodore Roosevelt.

The Republican nominee will pay his respects to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, widow of the late president, at Sagamore Hill, the historic family home in Oyster Bay. Then, he will journey on to the simple grave in Young's cemetery, where the late president rests through eternity.

After this tribute to the man who gave him his first inspiration in presidential politics, Landon will resume his smashing attack upon the new deal in the very heart of his opponent's greatest stronghold. He went to Brooklyn for a luncheon

Midland Fire Under Control

Three-Hour Fire Threatens Heart Of Midland Business Section Today

(International News Service)

BEAVER, Pa., Oct. 29.—One man was burned, a fireman was overcome and an entire business block in the heart of nearby Midland was threatened by a three-hour fire today.

The blaze broke out in the furniture store of Louis Megdal in a three-story brick structure in a built up business section. Megdal was burned attempting to extinguish the blaze and rushed to the Rochester hospital 12 miles away.

Chief Overcome

Fire Chief Edward Barrett was overcome by smoke.

The flames, eating through the furniture store, rapidly grew out of control of Midland's volunteer fire department of 25 members and they sent a call for aid to Beaver.

The Beaver department made the 10-mile run to Midland with its pumper in record time and at 11 o'clock this morning the blaze was finally brought under control.

I'd hate to be a football referee. I wouldn't want the crowd around my neck, and when the scrimmage crashed in writhing heaps, I wouldn't like the bottom of the wreck. For referees are fuuy kind of folks, they seem to like the tumult and the roar, and keep themselves as cool as pickled tripe, when every one is asking what's the score. Amazingly enough they seem to live without protection of a fleet of cops, although at times their life seems on a thread, but then each year there'll be another crop. I'd hate to be a football referee, but then each chap to what he'd like to be, they seem to thrive on danger on the field, the weather's bright and touching fifty three.

KNOX HITS 'SLUSH FUND'

Campaigns In Middle West

Will End Campaign With Address In Chicago Saturday Night

WILL MAKE FRIDAY VISIT TO INDIANA

(International News Service)

LA CROSSE, Wis., Oct. 29—Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice presidential nominee, was bound for Southern Illinois today, after a final campaign swing through Wisconsin climaxed by an address here last night in which he placed upon the Roosevelt administration full responsibility for the unemployment of a "lost generation" of young men and women graduated from schools and colleges in recent years.

Appealing to the 8,000,000 young Americans who have come of voting age since the 1932 election, Col. Knox declared:

"We have seen a host of young people leaving school and going out into a world that had no place for them. Many of them became members of a lost generation, their prospects lost, their homes lost, their ambition lost....

Greatest Slush Fund

"....The present administration is responsible for their distress. Recovery began in this country in 1932. It needed confidence. And the Roosevelt administration destroyed confidence. It needed encouragement and the administration discouraged it, it needed stimulation of enterprise, and the administration restricted it."

The administration plea for re-election, Col. Knox said, is based on a "mad confusion of propaganda and misinformation," and the new deal, he charged, has created "the greatest slush fund....in history."

Col. Knox will campaign through Southern Illinois today, with a major address scheduled for West Frankport tonight. Tomorrow he will tour through Indiana, climaxing the day with a major address at Gary. Saturday Col. Knox will conclude his campaigning with a major address, to be broadcast over a nationwide radio network, at the Intrnational amphitheatre in Chicago.

Records show that, of every 200 passenger cars manufactured in the United States last year, only one was an open model.

FOOD INGATHERING FOR HOSPITAL BRING MANY DONATIONS

has been held, has seen a host of foodstuffs donated to the hospital and these have been valuable in the winter months. Every dollar's worth of canned foodstuffs given to the hospital means another dollar cut off the general expense of the hospital which in turn is another lick at the wolf of deficit which is not far from the door of every hospital.

The Jameson food ingathering is such a project that everyone can support. One can or a case, a peck of potatoes or ten bushels, each according to his means. City and county alike are joining in the ingathering and it is hoped that by Saturday night the lobby of the Jameson Memorial hospital will be so full of foodstuffs Saturday night that one way traffic will be the rule through the lobby.

Before you forget, go down to the cellar and select a few samples of your autumn canning. Or tell the grocer to include a few cans of fruit or vegetables in your order today. And then take it or send it to the Jameson Memorial hospital.

LANDON GIVEN GREAT ACCLAIM IN METROPOLIS

at the St. George Hotel with Republican leaders and constitutional Democrats.

Speaks Tonight In New York

And tonight in Madison Square Garden, Landon will close his eastern campaign with one of the most important addresses of his drive for the presidency, at 9:30 o'clock. Its subject was withheld by Landon advisers but the Republican nominee was reported to be ready to strike his hardest blow at the record of President Roosevelt.

Landon was given a tumultuous reception by sophisticated New York City—a city reported to be overwhelmingly for his opponent. A crowd estimated by newspapers here at from 200,000 to 1,000,000 lined the streets to cheer enthusiastically as he rode less than twenty blocks from the station to his hotel. Tens of thousands broke through police lines and literally stormed Landon's car. Time and again, police were forced to rescue him from wildly cheering supporters who sought to grasp his hand.

Landon Impressed

Landon was deeply impressed with his reception. So too were Republican leaders. So too was Alfred E. Smith, Democratic nominee for president in 1928, who paid his respects to Landon at the latter's hotel. They conferred for an hour.

"The splendid reception you have received must have convinced you you are welcome in New York," Smith told Landon. "And I want to tell you you have many more friends among the Democrats of New York than you have any idea of."

Photographers, struggling to photograph Landon and Smith together, urged the two men to stand closer.

"We're as close together as we can get," was Landon's retort, "and we will stick together, I hope, for a very long time to come."

Afterwards, Smith told newspapermen when asked whether he "liked Landon":

"Very much indeed. He is very clear-headed, very much to the point, very sound and very sensible."

Tribute To T. R.

Landon's visit to the Roosevelt shrine on Long Island came as a sincere tribute from the Republican nominee to an old political idol. The governor's father, John Landon, was an ardent Rooseveltian in the 1904 campaign. Then in the great battle of 1912, young Landon followed his father into the Bull Moose movement, campaigned Kansas for "Teddy" and cast his first vote for him. Landon met his "hero" a number of times in Kansas.

The Theodore Roosevelt influence on Landon has been revealed time and again in the present campaign. The Republican nominee has quoted T. R. on monopoly, on anti-trust legislation and only last Tuesday in Pittsburgh on the civil service.

In St. Louis Saturday night

Landon will leave here shortly after midnight on a return trip to Topeka. He will stop at Charleston, W. Va., at 5:40 o'clock tomorrow evening for an address. Then, he will deliver a "rear porch" talk from his Sunflower special in Huntington, W. Va., at 8:15 p. m., before preceding on to St. Louis to close his campaign with a final major address Saturday night.

The governor will go to Independence, Kans., his home, to vote next Tuesday, returning immediately afterwards to Topeka to await his fate at the hands of the American electorate.

iff Edward D. Pritchard, County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland. Other visitors through the plant were C. F. Conover and W. C. Mitchell of the Claims Department, Tin Division, of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, J. A. Butler, former superintendent of New Castle Works, Earl S. Machin, former assistant superintendent, D. S. Pyle, former general superintendent of the Shenango and New Castle Works, W. L. Goodhue, former general superintendent of the Vandergrift Works, C. A. Ferguson general superintendent of the Farrell-Mercer Works and wife, Messrs Wilkinson, Hayes and Passick of the Rogers 1847 Company, C. E. Crawford, general superintendent of the Shenango Works and wife, and Mrs. Davis of Indianapolis, a house guest of the Crawfords.

The clerks of the New Castle Dry Goods Company attended in a body as did the clerks of the Strouss-Hirshberg Company. Hundreds of business men, clergymen, nuns and professional men added to the crowd. The Union Township High band of 25 pieces directed by Robert Duff, presented a concert in the morning and early afternoon hours and the New Castle senior high school band of 80 pieces directed by Joe F. Replogle played in the late afternoon hours.

Appreciate Co-operation

"We are deeply appreciative of the co-operation extended in our Community Day" said H. C. Ford, general chairman of the day. To the bands, the city superintendent of schools, Dr. C. C. Green and the county superintendent John C. Syling, to the merchants of the city, The News, the churches and everybody joining with us we extend our heartiest appreciation. We also thank Ralph S. Reed for the loan of the small tongs and hammer made by his father the late Matthew A. Reed out of the first bars rolled at the New Castle Works on October 14, 1393 and for the ship model in a bottle loaned by Palo Cupido, one of our cold roll men. It was a great day and we are delighted beyond measure with the success of it."

Not an accident occurred all day long. The Community Day was a three star success from nine o'clock in the morning until after six at night. To the management of the plant and the men of the Employes Representative Association much credit is due for the opportunity afforded New Castle and Lawrence County to see the New Castle Works in operation.

From the far-away land of Holland will come exhibition fowers for the November flower show which opens for a four-day run at the Cathedral on Armistice Day. Pa Newc was told this morning that an order was placed yesterday for imported cut flowers grown in the land of dikes and windmills. Besides, there'll be flowers from all over the United States displayed.

Use caution in burning leaves, said City Engineer Glenn R. Throop today. He said burning of leaves on new amiesite pavement would ruin it. No leaves may be burned unless sanction is given in writing by firemen. Permits may be obtained free of charge at any fire house. Leaves may be burned from sun-up to sun-down, it is reported.

Pa Newc thinks it best that convention signs should disappear when the sessions are over. In the city today at least four placards of a recent convention were still hanging from poles.

Patrolman William Tyrell today reported to traffic director, John Haven, that a woman, driver of a car bearing Pennsylvania license D9891, was entitled to be listed in the "safe drivers" list. She was driving at North and Mill streets Wednesday, Tyrell said, when a small boy ran into the street. "Only good driving saved the boy from injury and probably death," said Tyrell in his report. The car driven is listed as owned by Tony Quarello, 1129 South Mill street.

Central Presbyterian Preparatory Service

Rev. James M. Guthrie of East Brook will preach at the Central Presbyterian church here on Friday night at 7:45 o'clock. A proper preparation is being made by all Presbyterians to observe a World Communion next Sunday at 11 a. m. when all the mission fields around the world will commune together and every member will be re-dedicated to new loyalty.

Dr. C. B. Wingerd, Central Presbyterian pastor, chairman of United Promotion in this presbytery, is preaching in New Wilmington tonight for Rev. W. F. Byers, to further emphasize this world-wide observance.

TO IMPROVE SEWER

City Engineer Glenn R. Throop informer council during the city hall session this morning that he has made arrangements to cement joints on a four inch storm sewer in Laurel avenue which will eliminate a water situation there. The sewer was put in two years ago, there is no record, the joints were not cemented, but the situation is easily cured, Throop advised council. The investigation resulted from a complaint made sometime ago by C. W. Irwin.

COUNCIL WOMEN HAVE PRE-CONVENTION MEET

Pre-Convention meeting of the New Castle Section National Council of Jewish women was held in Temple Israel Wednesday evening to complete plans for the thirteen meeting of Pennsylvania sctions N. C. J. W. which will be held in New Castle November 8-10.

Committee chairmen reported progress in attention to various arrangements which fortell an inspirational conference. Delegates elected to represent the local section are: Mrs. William L. Cosel, Mrs. Eliah Kaplan, Mrs. J. F. Perelman, Mrs. Louis Kohn. Alternates were named as follows: Mrs. David Silverman, Mrs. Morris Davis, Mrs. Norman Ehrlich, Mrs. Dorothy Marlin.

The program of the evening had been arranged by the legislative in an attempt to understand the human aspects of politics and to stimulate intelligent voting. The issues of the campaign were discussed in clear terms by the two speakers, introduced by Mrs. Kaplan.

Mrs. William Howley ably spoke for the Democratic platform, interpreting the motives for the set-up of the present administration as regards Farm relief, public works, social security and youth. She described the Democratic philosophy as the "true American way."

Mrs. R. A. Cooper cleverly explained why she has remained a Republican. She traced the history of the organization of political parties pointing out the development of centralized power idea and the equally strong demand for states rights. She described in detail the function of high protective tariffs as supported by her party.

During the business session, contributions were voted for the Needle-work Guild and the United Jewish Appeal. Plans for increasing the number of books in Council Corner in the new library were discussed. Guests were present from the Ellwood City Section which is co-hostess for the state conference.

BRIDE AND GROOM HONORED AT PARTY

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webb, the latter nee Grace Sankey, and a bride and groom of October 17, Marian Griffith of Highland avenue entertained at a charming bridge-shower Wednesday evening at a prominent inn at New Wilmington.

The guest list, including girl friends of the bride and their husbands and boy friends, entered into competition for bridge honors during the early hours. Prizes were awarded to Lucille Emery and Abe Klingensmith at conclusion of play.

A tempting lunch was later served in the dining room at a table cleverly apppointed with a floral centerpiece, guarded by white tapers on either side. Miniature glass vases containing tiny bouquets were given the girls in attendance as favors.

The event was climaxed when the honored couple was presented with a beautiful gift of glassware in behalf of the 14 guests, conveying many good wishes.

Sewing continued at Jameson Memorial hospital Wednesday morning in the Solarium of the institution when members of the Guild of Epworth M. E. church gathered and completed garments and linen articles for immediate use. The hours were from 9 until 12 o'clock and other women in the city interested also shared their services.

This meeting brought a successful month of meetings to a close for the Guild women, and they turned their responsibilities over to the Circle of '91 during November, who will preside as hostesses.

Meetings will be called on Wednesdays from 9 until 12 o'clock each week, and it is desired that anyone not belonging, will be welcome to attend and assist with the work if they so desire.

THETA RHO GIRLS HAVE FUN MASKED

Cleverly disguised as Mae West Wednesday evening at a party in the home of Virginia Emery, on Croton avenue, Erma Hoover won first prize for having the best costume. Second prize went to a couple, an upholstered colored Mammy and Pappy in the persons of Jean Porter and Lucy Pettitt. The mystery prize was awarded to Margaret Gillespie.

After having fun guessing identities, the group which was composed of Theta Rho Girls, played all kinds of games popular this week particularly, and Ada Ketzel was rewarded for skill in these.

Luncheon was served with the assistance of Mrs. Marie Roof, Mrs. Jennie Thompson and Mrs. Bertha Emery.

On November 20 the girls will have other fun at a party to be held at the home of Mrs. Marie Roof, on East Washington street.

STAG PARTY HELD AT FIELD CLUB

The male members of the New Castle Field Club assembled in their club rooms Wednesday evening for a stag dinner party at 6:30 o'clock. Following the serving the time was spent informally with a smoker, bridge and other diversions.

Similar parties of this nature will be held at the club from time to time, the dates to be announced.

FIELD CLUB WOMEN ENTERTAIN GUESTS

Running a little different to regular schedule, the women of the New Castle Field club held a special "Guest Day" luncheon-bridge party in their club rooms Wednesday afternoon. On this occasion, the various members were privileged to take several guests to share in the festivities planned for their pleasure, and the attendance mounted up to nearly a hundred.

Hostesses in charge, included Mrs. B. F. Kariher, Mrs. S. E. Patterson, Mrs. J. L. Stone and Mrs. T. E. Nolan. They received the assemblage in a most gracious manner, and made everyone feel much "at home."

Luncheon, served in the dining room at nicely appointed tables, launched festivities. The autumnal motiff predominated throughout the table and room decorations. Leaves were scattered about, hollowed pumpkins filled with fall flowers and other adornments adding to the colorful setting further suggesting the present season, were used.

Bridge ensued, and the guests who won honor score prizes, were Mrs. Paul F. Butz and Mrs. Francis Hammond. Members of the club winning card trophies were Mrs. C. B. Fiester and Mrs. Louis Sandler. An informal social period closed the program.

In two weeks, the Field Club women will meet for their regular dessert-bridge party, the hostess to be announced.

COSTUME PARTY FOR CHEERIO MEMBERS

Viola Neyman opened her home on Bradner avenue Wednesday evening, to Cheerio club associates who had an evening of merriment at a Halloween party.

In the living room pirates, ghosts, witches and starry eyed black cats peered from every corner, a typical setting for the weird looking group which arrived early. After awhile, each guest was given a paper and pencil with instructions to vote for the best costumes.

Mrs. Fred Fabian, dressed as the absent minded professor, won the most votes and the prize. Games of various sorts were entertaining with Mrs. Fred Fabian again, and Viola Neyman winning the awards.

A Halloween lunch was served buffet style. Sharing as a special guest, was Mrs. Arthur Lundy.

Thursday, November 5, the club will have a poverty party at the home of Mrs. Edward Kelly, East Washington street.

SCAVANGER HUNT AT CLARKE RESIDENCE

When a group of friends gathered in the home of Miss Peggy Clarke, Butler avenue, Wednesday evening, a scavanger hunt was suggested and the guests went scurrying about town in search of various articles which at times are difficult to secure. Such articles as the signature of the chief of police, the mayor's autograph, an Indian head penny, and the like, were on the list.

At the close of the hunt the articles brought back were put on display at the Clarke home and honors for the most complete assortment went to Mary Elizabeth Earl and Henry Mayberry.

Popular music was enjoyed with Miss Katherine Buchanan at the piano. Later, the guests gathered in the dining room where they were served a most delicious luncheon by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Robert Clarke, and Miss Bessie MacDonald. Decorations throughout the house were of the Hallowe'en type.

MARJORIE WALDEN HOSTESS TO FRIENDS

Miss Marjorie Walden, student of 8-A at George Washington Junior High School, was a pleasing hostess Tuesday evening to a group of 18 classmates and other school chums when she entertained at a novel masquerade party.

The rooms of the Walden home were fittingly decorated in keeping with Hallowe'en, and amidst the rustic setting the mummers sauntered about in silence. Prizes were awarded for costumes, with Mary Katherine Trick receiving the girls award, she being attired as a belle of the gay 90's. Robert Vaughn carried off the boys' prize, he appearing in a snappy Spanish outfit.

Dancing and games of all descriptions were in vogue during the leisure time that ensued, and at a late hour, the hostess' mother, Mrs. L. Walden served an appetizing and attractive lunch. Orange and black tones predominated throughout in the appointments.

In the home of Mrs. John Clark on Highland avenue Wednesday evening, the 1931 Glendale Bridge club was entertained.

MISSIONARY GROUP HAS MASQUE PARTY

Mrs. Clarence Allshouse opened the front door of her Waldo street home Wednesday night to a parade of witches, ghosts and other strange characters, twenty five members and friends of the Catherine Van-Bora Missionary Society of St. John's Lutheran church in disguise.

A series of games interested the "motley crew" and two prizes were awarded for best costumes. The members voted that Miss Lena Richards had the most unique outfit but as she was on the committee and declined the prize, the next two in line for the honors were Mrs. George Alborn and Miss Clara Alborn.

Mrs. Allshouse servtd refreshments later, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Lottie Phillips, Mrs. A. W. Allshouse and Mrs. Cora Smith.

One feature of the evening was music furnished by six boys of the Junior Legion band, who came to the party after participating in the South Side Hallowe'en parade.

The November meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Rueben Salmon, Norwood avenue, and Mrs. Milo Steele will be the associate hostess.

MISS BETTY MILLER HOSTESS TO CLUB

There seemed to be an unending stream of prizes for lucky persons at the regular annual Hallowe'en party of the N. K. club, which was held in the home of Miss Betty Miller, Harbor street, Wednesday evening.

During the remaining portion of the evening numerous spooky and weird games were enjoyed with prizes awarded the following: Peggy Robison, Mrs. Audra Steel, Sam Robison, Henry Ungar, Mary Elizabeth Fondrick and Alice Slack.

Candles artistically arranged, furnished the only light for a delicious Hallowe'en menu which was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. John Lang, and Miss Elizabeth Lewis. Escorts of the members were special guests, as were Mr. and Mrs. Audra Steel of Gary, Indiana.

CONGRESS ELECTION IS VITAL

FORMER COMPTROLLER GENERAL McCARL, in "The Saturday evening Post," gave a vivid picture of the manner in which congress abdicated its control of the nation's purse strings under the promptings and political bullyings of the New Deal. The story is interesting as a record and as a warning. This warning is, in brief, that unless the voters elect in November men of courage, independence and integrity the next congress is likely to be as weakly tractable as the last two have been.

If Mr. Roosevelt should win, it would be more important than ever that there should be a powerful group in congress, to reassert the proper functions of that body and refuse to sanction the passing out of public funds for any and every purpose. The country is tired of a supine congress, of rubber stamps eager to do the half-baked bidding if immature advisers of the executive, declares the New York Herald-Tribune. If Mr. Landon wins, he will need the help of sound men in congress to put into effect his promises to balance the budget.

These are the facts which make the congressional campaign. The designation of candidates is now completed. Fortunately, in many states the nominations, especially of the Republicans, have been excellent. And it is important that they be independent, fearless and able. * * * Both parties would be much better off if they had more members in the senate and the house of representatives like Carter Glass, Harry Byrd and William E. Borah. Already there are plenty of indications that not even the persuasive Mr. Roosevelt can command in the coming congress the degree of subservience that he has had to date. Many Democrats are opposed to the New Deal. And as they become more and more convinced that the country is tiring of the Roosevelt policies they will become emboldened to oppose them.

It is largely because Mr. Roosevelt succeeded in imposing his will on congress that he has been so sharply criticized for those measures which he urged that have since been declared unconstitutional. If congress had been courageous and insisted upon its independence, instead of signing on the dotted line, many of these unconstitutional measures would either not have been passed or else would have been so modified as to come within constitutional limitations. Senator Glass put it well when he said, in the course of his scathing denunciation of the New Deal at the shrine of Patrick Henry, that "it is congress that should be blamed for abjectly surrendering its own constitutional functions and delegating them to the president of the United States and to various minor executive officials."

WE STILL BELIEVE IN THRIFT

The information that the 1,063,500 contributors to Christmas clubs in the savings banks of fourteen states have saved up an average of $41.24 this year, an average increase of $1.29 over 1935, is encouraging. The total $43,863,000, which will be distributed to the savers during the next few weeks, can not fail to stimulate trade generally. The fact that a great part of it will go for the purchase of gifts is a happy augury.

This army of savers, 47,877 of whom belong to Pennsylvania thrift clubs, with assets of $2,227,000, is evidence that even under an extravagant national administration there is such a thing as the individual saving money.

CAKES, SAUSAGE, PUMPKIN PIE

These are days when thoughts turn naturally to important things of life, such as sausage and wheat cakes and pumpkin pie. Incidentally, of course, there is the election, which is vital in a remote sort of way, but the others are matters of more intimate interest. When the mercury descends to its lower levels, as it does occasionally on these bright autumn mornings, the appealing spectacle of a stack of golden brown cakes and a generous link of sausage arises pleasantly in the mind's eye.

There may be better ways of starting the day than by attacking and conquering such a gastronomic citadel but they do not present themselves for consideration at the moment. As for pumpkin pie,, one whose texture is smooth and rich, with just the proportion and kinds of spices and perfect crust—among all of the attractions of a delightful season which combines most of the beauties of nature, there is none more appealing than this.

Political extremists are watching Spain with the utmost interest. Something new may develop almost any minute along the line of organized chaos.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt talks of her campaign experiences: "All the people look so interested. They are interested in the government, feeling it is in their own hands."

CHICAGO—Chief Justice Joseph B. David observes his 73rd birthday with a tip to husbands: "Love thy neighbor, but not his wife."

HOLLYWOOD—Dr. Albert Soiland, authority on cancer, urges that the dread malady be made reportable like smallpox and other contagious diseases: "Such a step would have the beneficial step of bringing these people medical treatment, and thus of curing the disease if it is in its localized form."

LOS ANGELES—Col. Carlo Pezzani, minister of aviation at Rome, inspects some airplane factories: "Incredible American efficiency."

Bible Thought For Today

The poor is hated even of his own neighbor: but the rich hath many friends.—Proverbs, 14:20.

Hints On Etiquette

Words of Wisdom

The judge is condemned when the guilty is acquitted.—Syrus.

"Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown" says the old proverb. What we don't get is the word "lies." The modern king has a dictator and his propaganda bureau does the "lying."

SOME COMPLAIN that too much time and money are spent at universities to educate professors, encouraging research and laboratory work, with too little concentration on students.

There are some American "universities" that do their work of teaching most thoroughly; they are the universities of crime commonly called prisons and penitentiaries.

DISTRICT JUDGE HARRY D. LANDIS, of Nebraska, and his son Frank, law student, wanted to know more about prisoners and prison life and had themselves committed for three weeks to the penitentiary at Fort Madison, Ia.

Among their fellow prisoners they heard talk chiefly about crime and new criminal jobs" planned for the future. The Judge was invited to join in the jobs, after they got out.

When the judge and his son entered the prison, they were put in solitary confinement for three days just to "start them off right," a process hardly calculated to soften the heart of a convict, and turn him toward a better life.

AS YOU LOOK into a kaleidescope everything changes from minute to minute. It is about the same with Europe, where quarrels shift around like the little specks of color in the kaleidescope tube.

Until the other day, Belgium was the dear ally of France, and France loved Belgium. Now, Belgium says "no more alliances," and seems to be learning toward Germany, she even talks of building forts along the French frontier, in case France should move in her direction.

IN ADDITION to being surprising, this is foolish; forts will play no great part in the next war. You can't shoot an airplane from a fort. If France should visit Belgium, or vice versa, the visit would be by air.

It takes a long time to realize changes. Many bought expensive horse-drawn carriages after the automobile appeared.

LET THOSE SLIPPERS ALONE!

PUBLIC NOTICE to a Certain Family: I want it distinctly understood that I don't want those old bedroom slippers of mine thrown away.

They're old friends and I like 'em. It's true they're old and decrepit. It's true they're all banged out of shape, and torn and sloppy and a disgrace . . . But just the same I'm fond of 'em and I don't want 'em touched.

They've been loyal to me, I guess the least I can do is be loyal to them...I remember the night it was too hot to sleep and I got up and went outside in the moonlight in them. I remember that night a big noise downstairs woke me up and I thought it might be a burglar and I put on my old slippers and slipped downstairs brave as a lion (almost) to investigate. I remember the nights the baby yelled and I put those old slippers on and went in to see what was wrong with him . . . I feel sentimental about those old slippers and I want to keep them.

Shirts wear out at the cuffs and collars. Socks get enormous holes in them. Shoes go to pieces at last. Suits get to looking like the duce. Hats grow disgraceful . . . And I don't care what happens to them then (except that o'd soft gray hat with the hole in the crown; that's my favorite, too). But those shabby old slippers are in a different category entirely . . . I want them. The junk man can't have them. They're mine, forever mine.

If you like, you can buy me a new pair for Christmas. And maybe I'll wear them, and maybe I won't. Maybe I'll be a traitor to these old friends. You never can tell about that. But if anybody throws away this old pair before I get a new one, I'll raise the dickens. I'll raise the roof. I'll moan and I'll howl, and I'll let everybody know how I feel about it . . That is not a threat, that's a promise! Lay off those old leather slippers of mine!

SIGN OF AGE

Last week she said: "We've got to go
To see the baby!" "Whose?" said I.
She answered: "Barbara's. Don't you know—
It came the middle of July."

"Barbara a mother!" "Yes," said she,
And at my wonderment she smiled.
"Surely, my dear, that cannot be!
Barbara herself is still a child.

"She wore short skirts a year ago;
Was still in school when last we met."
"Yes," answered Nellie, "that I know,
But now she's of the younger set.

"She's married; has a baby fine!
But when such great surprise you show
Of middle-age it's just a sign
You're getting old yourself, you know."

Here is an example of building for the future. When the new press was set up in The News office in 1923 it was one with a capacity of 48 pages. Only three times in the past 13 years has the press been used to run 48 pages. The press operates at a speed of 36,000 papers an hour on all sized papers up to and including 24 pages.

A child couldn't pronounce Louisa. The best she could do was "Ouida" —Louise de la Ramee liked the sound of it, and adopted her little niece's pronunciation of her first name as a nom de plume, and made it famous all over the world.

A Pittsburgh lady had an operation performed on her baby because it could not cry. A whole lot of mothers feel like having an operation performed on their yappers to keep them from crying. Of course when a baby does not cry it worries the mother—it's so unusual, for one not to bawl.

You can't expect all men to have the same principles. The idea that takes one man's shirt butters another's bread.

A book no publisher would publish was hawked about London years ago by its author. It was even "turned down" as unavailable by George Meredith, then a publisher's reader. Finally a publisher was found and the novel appeared. It was Mrs. Henry Wood's "East Lynne," and more than a million copies were sold.

A few days ago the question arose. When a girl gets married at 19 years of age do her parents still have control of her as a minor? They might have control all right, but not much if they get married too young.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

James P. Warburg, financier, said at a luncheon in Manhattan.

"I'd like to recall to our silver senators a story that has come down to us from the days of the Populist Party.

"A Populist with long whiskers was making a silver speech in Kansas.

"'Fellow citizens,' he said, 'this question of silver is easy. If the government makes the silver dollar a dollar, it follers as night follers day that silver dollars must be worth a hundred cents.'

"'Question!' a man called from the back of the hall.

"'A dozen if you like,' replied the Populist. 'Fire ahead.'

"'Then,' said the man, 'I'd like to know if the government marked your whiskers hay, would a mule eat them?'"

The first thing bandits do when they start out to do a fast job of thieving is to steal an automobile. In the old days a horse was fast enough, but now all successful stealing must be done by automobile.

WHEN THE ACTORS GOT TO THE BEST ONE-NIGHT TOWN IN THE STATE

Otis Skinner was touring in a small company of actors once in one night towns. Business had been miserable and eating had become a luxury. It was only the cheering knowledge that the new opera house in the next town had been sold out for their performance that kept the company together.

"Wait till tomorrow night," the manager would say to anyone who faintly suggested the price of a breakfast.

Finally the town with the new opera house was reached and everybody was happy. It was eventide and a rosy glow illumined the sky.

"Ah, me," sighed the leading man to the stage driver. "Isn't that a beautiful sunset?"

"Sunset, nothing!" growled the driver. "That's the new opry house burnin' down."

It is stated that the king of England can claim a wife with the same freedom as any of his subjects, with the exception of a religious ban. After all we have it on the king as in this country, people can marry and never consider any religion a bar to marriage.

In Pittsburgh it has been found that butter prints, both real and imitation butter to the amount of about fifty thousand pounds were light weight. Birds who will do that ought to have sumpin' terrible happen to them in times like these.

In a great many cities many people are found who are registered but not entitled to vote. This is a matter that ought to be looked into everywhere. Those birds are not going to vote to carry on the great America we have had until recently.

IF you would be popular in your set, do not be sparse with your invitations. Be hospitable. Invite your intimates occasionally to one of those informal gatherings with a late supper that yield a hostess praise from all those present.

Sometime when your "gang" has been to a dance or to the movies in your neighborhood suggest that the group come back to your home for a snack before going home.

Serve your guests something light. Toasted cheese sandwiches, or scrambled eggs and coffee are great favorites of late prowlers. A nightcap would doubtless be more than appreciated by those with thirst as well as an appetite.

When next the group is out together, some one else will probably follow your example and suggest such a meeting at her house.

The hostess who "unbends" easily and veritably hangs a "welcome" sign outside of her house will ever be popular, liked by all and herself the recipient of numerous invitations from others. Thus are large groups of friends made—and kept!

The World At A Glance

Republicans Won Often.
McKinley Is Assassinated.
Vote Of Recent Elections.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

FROM 1896 ON to 1912, the Republicans won each presidential campaign with ease.

It was a period when world prices were rising from a depression, to reach a new peak and topple again, in 1907, in one of the periodic depressions. That depression—during Theodore Roosevelt's concluding term—smashed the "full dinner pail" slogan for a while. It did not go over after William Howard Taft was elected in 1908.

William McKinley's tenure, 1897-1901, brought not only the highest tariff to date, but the formation of giant trusts, the apparent flow of vast sums of money in a rapidly expanding industrial nation—and a war which Democrats termed as imperialistic. Historians of today join the Democrats of 1898 in looking upon the Spanish-American war as a not altogether clean page.

It ended with the United States in possession of Cuba, Puerto Rico and the Philippines, although the latter were not easy to subjugate.

CAMPAIGN OF 1900

Thus, the Democrats believed they had their campaign issue for 1900.

Nominating William Jennings Bryan again, they spoke furiously against imperialism "trusts" and concentration of wealth—and urged free coinage of silver.

The Republicans, still dominated by Marcus A. Hanna, industrialist-political boss, and backed with an enormous campaign fund, laid out a "perfect" campaign for the re-election of President McKinley. They asserted, interspersed with pleas to "save the constitution," that Bryan was an "anarchist" (which tormented this holy man no little) and proclaimed that all industry would got to pot and jobs would disappear if Bryan were elected.

There had been an addition, however, to the Republican ticket. Senator T. C. Platt, boss of New York state, desired to get a liberal Republican out of his bailiwick. The liberal, returning from the Spanish-American war as a hero, had been elected governor. Senator Platt therefore suggested to National Boss Hanna that this liberal be "lost in the vice presidency. Whereupon, Theodore Roosevelt, the hero of San Juan Hill, and quite a bit more adept as an imperialist than McKinley, and a much abler campaigner, was nominated for vice president.

An he now was campaigning up and down the land against mollycoddles.

ROOSEVELT ASCENDS

McKinley won easily over Bryan, 7,219,530 to 6,358,071. The electorial margin was more decisive—292 to 155.

The following September—1901—while McKinley was attending the Pan-American exposition in Buffalo, he was shot by a real anarchist and died a few days later.

Theodore Roosevelt, instead of having been "lost" in the vice presidency, now became president—and the first glimpse of social values since Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln began to appear.

But Theodore Roosevelt, in perspective, seems to have been no leader for causes which the liberal of today holds sacred.

To realize how much we have progressed on the road which seems so slow, we have but to turn back to the "liberal" Roosevelt regimes of 1901-08. It was not until Theodore Roosevelt tried to win with a third party in 1912 that he spoke those aggressive social phrases which today are quoted. Nevertheless, even though his regime was "imperialistic" in the eyes of the Democrats, he voiced hopes that the ordinary man desired to hear when he spoke of "a square deal." That was an age when workers felt more enslaved than had even the slaves of the south. "A full dinner pail" had become a meaningless, ironic gesture.

OTHER BATTLES

Beginning with 1904 and coming down to the present day, we shall present merely the vote figures, as a convenient record.

The campaigns of the past 32 years are of too recent occurrence to retell with the proper perspective. Many persons remember them, and will rejoice in refreshing their memories with these figures. And those who are younger may find some surprises in these totals, for perhaps grandpa or dad has exaggerated in favor of his particular candidate:

GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS

The activity of the present administration at Washington in the building of dams on the Tennessee and Columbia rivers is to be condemned. Such work should not be done with the people's money.

The Tennessee project has been accomplished with tremendous waste. Just how much waste will not be known; probably just as much as the waste in the Public Works Administration.

A bridge which the contractor in the northwest was willing to build for $11,500.00 and which the PWA built for $59,000.00, will give about the proportion of the waste in the Tennessee project. The dam waste will run into the millions.

And what is the purpose of these projects? 'Tis said to give the consumer of electricity cheaper light and power. Every state has a Commission, politically appointed, whose duty it is to fix a proper rate for all public utilities. Will a politically appointed National Commission operate these light and power plants as economically as the public utilities at present serving the public? Will the rate charged by the government owned plants be any cheaper than could the politically appointed State Commissions insure to the patrons of the present utility companies? No, of course not. The federal taxpayer foots the bill and the government owned plant will hold a nest of incompetent administrators and workmen. Those who want power and light will eventually get a poorer and more expensive product than furnished by the present utilities.

The companies of America which have been furnishing light and power have been pioneers. Their work has been magnificent. Follow these power lines over the nation. Look at the great steel towers carrying the high tension wires over the mountains, across the deserts and through the forests. And is all this to be wrecked for the benefit of some political henchmen? Are the great army of stockholders in the public utilities to have their investment ruined? Is the American taxpayer to be called upon to help destroy the investments of the thrifty citizens of the nation?

Two of the easiest men in public life to record are, however, according to Mrs. Sweeney, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democrat, and Nicholas Murray Butler, Republican.

You're wrong if you believe that having goats around them keeps thoroughbreds and harness horses more healthy, by preventing disease among them. This superstition, still commonly held by racehorse owners throughout the country, goes back to the middle ages when peasants believed the devil took the form of a goat when he visited, and kept the goats in their stables, which were usually built into the house, to act as receptacles for evil spirits attempting to get into the residence.

Gordon Appeals To Game Hunters

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 29.—"Give game a sporting chance."

So warned Seth Gordon, secretary of the game commission, today in a state-wide appeal to hunters not to shoot pheasants, quail, grouse, or rabbits while they are sitting on the ground or in trees.

"There is no thrill in 'nest' or 'roost' shooting," Gordon said, pointing out the practice is not truly sporting.

ple live there, you may see a well painted butcher's wagon carrying the sign "Canada mutton."

You wonder whether anything is wrong with United States mutton, or whether fashionable ladies and gentlemen feel that mutton from abroad is more easily digested.

Excellent mutton is raised by United States farmers and those that make their money in the United States should not be above spending it in the United States.

IF A BUTCHER in London or Paris painted on his wagon the sign "Mutton grown in the United States," his customers would tell him to go away and not come back until he had decided to sell English or French mutton.

It should be possible to discourage the theory that money acquired in America, should be spent somewhere else.

GOOD NEWS for the citizens generally, as well as for business, is supplied to this writer by Mr. John S. Burke, known to all important American merchants.

There has been recently observed a great increase in the sale of household goods of all kinds; furniture, rugs, all sorts of permanent household furnishings. That is more important than any casual "better business" note.

Every dollar spent to beautify the home is spent to leave happy memories of youth on the minds of children. Happiness promotes success and a beautiful home increases happiness.

PRESIDENT DODDS, of Princeton University, convinced that there is no necessity for combining the brutality of modern football with the other brutality of youthful drunkenness, appealed to young people that watched Princeton football games to leave their alcoholic supplies at home and remain sober.

As a result, few empty bottles were picked up after the next game as compared with a truckload of empty bottles collected after an earlier game.

Modern youth will respond to a wise appeal, if it respects the source.

OLD-FASHIONED mothers buying Christmas toys for children this year will buy dolls with elaborate outfits including oxygen tanks with which the child may, in its imagination, revive the doll about to die.

The child might learn about medicine by "nursing an incubator baby doll in an oxygen tank," but that is wandering far from the original idea.

Little boys play soldier that they may know how to fight later, and little girls play with dolls that they may become good mothers, not hospital internes.

THE REV. ADOLPH WILLIAM MEYER, who has preached for fifty years, tells clergymen many sermons are damaged by "torpid livers" of preachers. Says Dr. Meyer:

"Don't forget your hearers go to movies and want action."

The competition is severe, but some preachers, Billy Sunday, for instance, have been able to make great crowds worry about their own hereafter, even more than they worry about the next act in the moving picture. He who arouses interest draws the crowds.

Parents Advised To Give Children Wholesome Home

(International News Service)

DENVER, Colo.—A ringing challenge to parents to give childhood a decent home was voiced by W. H. Drane Lester, inspector of the Bureau of Investigation of the United States Department of Justice, in an address to the Women's Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars here.

It is for the mothers and fathers, Lester declared, to prove themselves worthy of the responsibility laid upon them by constant diligence on behalf of their children.

"The child brought up in a wholesome environment and under proper home conditions, will rarely turn to a life of crime," he said. "Next, you parents must see to it that children are given the proper kind of education. By this I mean that the young boy and girl of school age should be taught more in our schools than what is on pages of certain textbooks.

"Their school training should teach good citizenship and instill in them a wholesome, sincere respect for law and order.

"Further, you can debunk the criminal. Take the halo of romance from his head where it has been allowed to rest entirely too long because of the sniveling 'I-don't-care' attitude of the maudlin public. Expose the criminal as the dirty, sniveling coward he invariably turns out to be and you will find fewer young Americans who will want to follow in his footsteps."

Food Extracts Have An Effect On Cataracts

(International News Service)

BERKELEY, Cal.—The cause of cataracts, which has baffled the medical world for centuries, was believed to be a step nearer solution with the discovery by Dr. Agnes Fay Morgan, charmani of the department of household science at the University of California, and Bessie B. Cook, a graduate student that certain food extracts have a material effect on the eye malady.

In a report to the Society for Experimental Biology, Dr. Morgan said her experiments showed that presence of lactose or galactose in the intestine, and frequent gastro-intestinal absorption difficulties associated with a deficiency of vitamin G offer a possible common attack on the problem.

"In lactose and low vitamin G diet tests there was a hundred per cent incidence of cataract," the report said. "Likewise the lactose fed controls grew at about 60 per cent of a group of cornstarch fed controls."

Dr. Morgan said the cause of cataracts is still unknown but that the determination of the cause has moved a step in advance in the possible future prevention of the disorder.

'To Such Base Uses We Come At Last'

(International News Service)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Rescued from the wrapping counter of a Quincy fish merchant nearly 100 years ago, the only known record of business conducted by the eight branches of the first Bank of the United States was presented to the library of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration by Edward H. Gleason, of the Boston Merchants' National Bank.

The record, a discount book of the Boston branch of the bank for the period from August, 1793, to November, 1795, is actually a source book for information concerning business conditions in Boston at the close of the Revolutionary War.

In 1843 Robert Hooper, president of the Boston bank, discovered the ledger in the Quincy fish market. He gave the book to the bank, pencilling a note on the flyleaf:

"This book was found in the hands of a vender of fish in Quincy Hall Market Place, by him doomed to be plucked in pieces and devoted to the ignoble purpose of wrapping his stale commodity. 'To such base uses may we come at last.'"

MR. DOWNIE... DON'T BE SILLY!

PUBLISH the names of every person in this WPA district getting $125.00 to $400.000 per month and tell us what they do to earn the money. This will eliminate any confusion that exists. This list should give the information as of August 31st, 1936 and October 30th, 1936.

The salaries of our city, county and state officials and employees is a matter of public record. Taxpayers who furnish the money to pay them know what they get and what duties they perform.

Why are single men getting up to $200.00 per month when men with large families are getting $57.20?

Why are three and four persons out of the same family employed in supervisory and clerical capacity when the man with a large family is getting $57.20?

You say the WPA is non-political, when you know that there isn't a good job in your organization that wasn't filled at the suggestion or recommendation of Democratic politicians.

I have no quarrel with the people on WPA. LANDON HAS PROMISED AND WILL TAKE CARE OF THEM. HE IS FOR THEM 100%. However, I do object to taxpayers money being used to build a political machine which results in the politician getting the rich cream while the worker gets the skimmed milk at $57.20 per month, and takes it out in the rain, the snow, and the cold.

Chemistry Wonders Are To Be Shown

Institute To Put Out Motorized Display That Will Startle The Natives

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—A kettle boiling on a cake of ice....a rubber ball that bounces into a thousand fragments....a rose that crumbles to dust....fire started by a liquid—these and many other startling phenomena can be viewed daily at the Franklin Institue's new "traveling chemistry" show to go on tour next month.

Demonstrations run the gauntlet from black magic to cold light, including several tricks used in the days of witchcraft and sorcery In "air as a supporter of combustion" demonstrations are given illustrations of the phenomena of dust explosions, metals that burn and the cold flame.

Can adventure in low temperature features the liquid air demonstration, which includes a kettle boiling on ice, spings made of lead, and a piece of cloth made as brittle as a soda cracker. The behaviour of small particles, smoke, emulsions and gels are shown, and an exquisite perfume, as well as a number of brilliant dyes are made during the exhibition, which is climaxed by the demonstration of chemi-luminescence, or cold light.

Couzens Fought Tax Exemption

Had Money Invested In Tax Free Securities But Felt System Was Wrong

SAID OWN RISE MERELY FLUKE

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Strange as it may seem, the late Senator James Couzens of Michigan, who was in my opinion one of the most lovable individuals who ever occupied a seat on Capitol Hill, had enemies.

These folk are predicting now that, when his estate comes to be probated, the bulk of his very large fortune will be found to be invested in tax-exempt securities.

I verily believe it. In fact, I am sure of it. The senator told me repeatedly that his wealth was mainly so invested. He told the senate, again and again, that that was how he had invested it.

NO SECRET

He was clamorous on the subject. It was a bad system, he insisted, and he cited the fashion in which he had been able to take advantage of it as a conspicuous illustration of its evils.

So long as tax-exempt securities were available, he said, there appeared to him to be no reason why he should not invest in them, as did others, but there was no secret about it. Contrariwise, he iterated and reiterated that he ought to be taxed.

He offered publicly, over and over, to support legislation removing the tax exemption on this class of securities, quoting, however, among others, Senator William E. Borah, a great constitutionalist, to the effect that it would be unconstitutional.

AN AMENDMENT REQUIRED

Then amend the constitution, urged the Michigan solon.

But he could not do it single handed.

The conclusion is:

It will not be surprising if the late senator's estate is found to be invested principally in tax-exempt securities.

HIGH WAGE PROPONENT

Back in early 1915 the Ford Motor company decreed a minimum $5 daily wage for its workers, from scrub women on up.

Industry generally looked askance on this program, deeming the minimum figure too high—revolutionary, indeed. Nevertheless the Ford folk "got away with it". Henry Ford gained all the credit.

It was due to Couzens. He was a Ford official at the time. Some hundreds of Ford workers had been laid off. It was bitter winter weather. The dismissed employes were milling aimlessly around the plant. The management ordered the fire hose turned on them, to scatter the throng.

Couzens, Looking out through his office window, was so outraged that he determined to demand higher pay for the company's factory hands, to permit them to save a little money against such emergencies.

GIVES FORD CREDIT

"Give Ford credit," the senator once enjoined me. "He agreed to the increase.

But it was Couzens' idea.

He believed, too, that the majority of employers were ruthless.

* * *

"A FLUKE," SAID OF HIMSELF

The senator took his own rise to wealth as a fluke.

He told me that, too.

"I just happened to drop in at an opportune moment," he said. "Nobody with a few hundreds of dollars and credit could have missed it."

There WAS a gamble involved, undoubtedly.

Nevertheless, some millions of other folk did muff the opportunity as a good gamble.

France Starts Building Great New Air Fleet

Will Expend $230,000,000 To Have Air Force Equal Of Other Big Nations

(International News Service)

PARIS, Oct. 29—Early action by parliament was asked so that France can start work on her record $230,000,000 (5,000,000,000 franc) air expansion program, making her air fleet a rival of Germany's and Italy's.

The huge appropriation, two and a half times greater than any the air ministry has ever asked before, was approved by the council of ministers in view of new war threats and the haste of neighboring nations to arm.

A trade paper predicts there will be 5,000,000 new automobiles on the streets next year. More reassuring would be a prophesy that there would also be 5,000,000 careful drivers.

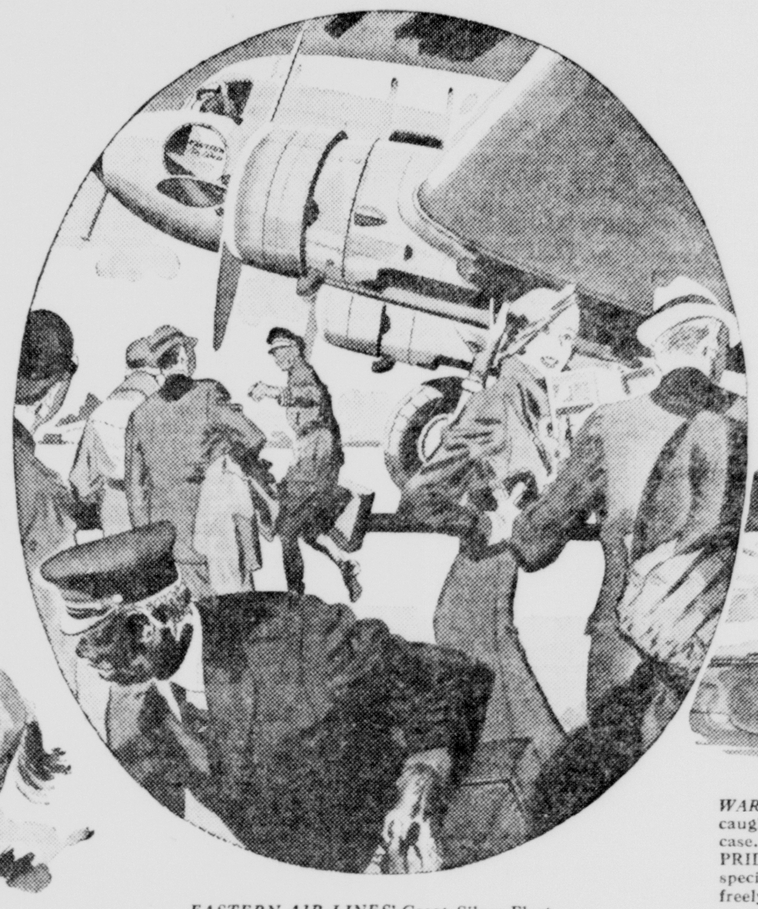
This process was developed by Gulf after 15 years of scientific research—the kind of painstaking research that is behind every Gulf product.

Read the facts below. Then replace your summer-worn oil with WINTER GULFPRIDE now. At all Gulf dealers.



A GULFPRIDE USER drove from Bennington, Vt. to Portland, Ore., averaging 400 miles a day. He did not add a single drop of oil. An unusual record, yes. But expect GULFPRIDE to take you farther before you need a quart than any other oil you ever used.

EASTERN AIR LINES' Great Silver Fleet uses GULFPRIDE only in every one of its 21 mighty planes. No other oil will do, because no other oil can match GULFPRIDE—the world's finest motor oil—for safety, stamina, and low cost per mile. That's just as true in your car, too.

BEATING THE BEST. No other process refines oil so thoroughly as Gulf's Alchlor process. When a blend of 6 of the finest Pennsylvania motor oils—already highly refined—was put through this process, 20% waste came out. Proof that the Alchlor process makes GULFPRIDE finer than the finest other Pennsylvania oils.

WARNING! Winter's on its way. Don't get caught with thick summer oil in your crankcase. Drain and refill with WINTER GULFPRIDE. This oil tops all U. S. Government specifications for winter motor oil. It flows freely below zero, starts quickly, saves your motor and battery. Don't delay—refill today.

BE PREPARED! CHANGE TO WINTER GULFPRIDE

SIGHT IS PRICELESS—LIGHT IS CHEAP

WOULD YOU endanger a CHAMPION'S EYES?

That son of yours may be heading for championship in golf, tennis, or other sports. Or he may be a champion student or just a plain champion son!

You wouldn't knowingly handicap him with poor vision. No siree! But if you permit him to read, study or work under insufficient light or improper lighting of any kind, you may unwittingly contribute toward handicapping a potential champion.

Protect your champion's eyes with good lighting at home. What is good lighting? Diffused light, free from glare, sharp shadows or strong contrasts—and plenty of light for reading or study.

HOW MUCH LIGHT DO YOU NEED TO PROTECT EYESIGHT?

Science has now determined how much light we need to see easily and comfortably...for reading books...for reading newspapers...for sewing...and for other eye tasks. It has also made a device, the Light Meter, which measures your lighting in a jiffy. You read the story of your lighting on the dial as you read the story of temperature on a thermometer. How does your home measure up? We will be glad to show you.

Let us Help you Check Your Lighting

A trained representative qualified to make suggestions about lighting will bring to your home a Light Meter and other special equipment designed to show you the effects of good lighting . . . and how to achieve it. Thus you can see for yourself what is necessary to protect the eyesight of the rest of your family, as well as that of your son! Phone or call for an appointment at your convenience.

New Light Meter measures light as easily as a thermometer measures temperature.

NAVAL NOTES

By M. L. NIXON
Naval Recruiter, Second Floor Federal Building

Ships of the United States Navy are in all corners of the globe. Many a youngster who several years ago was working on a farm and never dreamed of getting away from the farm, is now seeing foreign ports. Naval vessels today may be found in almost every large port on both east and west coasts of the United States. Three are off the coast of Spain, the Special Service Squadron is in the Canal Zone, the Asiatic Fleet is scattered along the coast of China and in the Phillipines, and many blue jackets are taking daily dips in the surf at Waikiki Beach, Honolulu. Another vessel is in Alaska waters, while another is below the equator in the South Sea Islands.

One of the outstanding items of Shanghai, China, today is the Sunday service of the United States sailors on duty in that city. The services are conducted by their Chaplain, M. N. Witherspoon, U. S. N. (former All-American football player at Washington-Jefferson University) and are held in a modern Grand theater. This theater, seating nearly 1,800 people is crowded to the doors every Sunday with service people, foreigners and native Chinese who come to hear the splendid program of music, the stirring address and to take part in the worship in this unique "Service church."

The Naval station at Tutuila, Samoa, is the farthest south of the United States regularly manned Naval holding. Exclusive rights to this station was signed over to the United States by the "Great Chief of Pago-Pago" in 1782, but was not used for many years. Now a large radio station and naval station is maintained on that island.

An omelet as large as one of 36 hen's eggs can be made from a single ostrich egg.

A healthy country is one in which citizens enjoy an unlimited supply of two things—freedom and fresh air.

HE MADE A TEN-YEAR TEST WITH ALL-BRAN

Say good-bye to the headaches, the low spirits, the sleeplessness that often follow common constipation. Just read this letter:

"In 1926, I started using ALL-BRAN. And now, after ten years, during which I have put Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to a long, hard test, I am writing you this letter. It is better to eat this food and be in condition, than to resort to laxatives." —Bernard Altman, 63 Goodale Road, Mattapan, Mass.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will help you too. Its "bulk" absorbs moisture within the body, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system. Tests prove it is safe and effective.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Either as a cereal, or in recipes. How much better to use this food than to take patent medicines. Buy ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Certificate Week Showing Results

"Dollar Certificate Week" is being observed by the various Certificate Clubs over the state interested in Landon and Knox. The Lawrence County committee has already enrolled 1161 persons on certificates, out of a quota of 1383. The committee here has been headed by Mrs. Grace Womer Crawford.

Tap dancing originated in Egypt 3,000 years ago, we read. And we always had thought it was invented by Eskimos during a spell of chilly weather.

J. Howard Pew Denies Charges Made By Guffey

Sun Oil Company Head Denies Attacks Hurled On Members Of Pew Family

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—J. Howard Pew, president of the Sun Oil Company, today accused Sen. Joseph F. Guffey of "untruths" in the latter's recent attacks charging that members of the Pew family, through the oil company, broke laws.

He branded as "absolutely and unqualifiedly false" Guffey's recent assertions that "a vice president of the Sun Oil Company had engaged in the illegal transportation of liquor" and that members of the Pew family "violated state and federal laws in the Texas oil field by producing daily more oil than was legally allowable."

Pew said Guffey "knew the statements were false when he made them," and produced telegrams purporting to show the company's activities conformed with regulations governing the production of oil in Texas.

Pew declared also that the company cooperated with the department of justice in thwarting employes who schemed to run in bootleg liquor cargoes on tankers. "A few years ago the Sun Oil Company discovered that some of the tanker crews had been bribed to transport liquor and immediately reported the circumstances to the government," Pew said.

It is suggested that if you are cooking chopped steak make it a "layer cake" with large sliced Bermuda onions for the filling. Bake in tomato sauce.

number of mummers in the parade is a real task. There were more last evening than ever before.

Line Of March

The American Legion Band, Croton school band and Ben Franklin junior high band, furnished the musical touch that echoed and re-echoed throughout the South Side. The parade moved from the intersection of Hamilton street down to the corner of East Long avenue and South Mill street. The marchers went up South Mill turned left at Home street and proceeded to Moravia and West Long. From that point, the group marched past the judges who were lined up along East Long avenue, near the corner of South Mill street, and at the Lincoln-Garfield grounds.

The costumes ranged from Charlie Chaplin type to Mae West. The usual grotesque creations were also noticeable. The judges, comprised mostly of city officials, found their task a difficult one. Although more than 250 prizes were given out, the judges were forced to consult each other on a number of occasions, so clever were some of the mummers.

It is needless to say that the event was a success. The South Side Board of Trade members went around the South Side last night, following the event, much pleased. President Frengel believes the affair was the biggest and most successful in the history of the organization. Through the column of The News, he thanks the police who saw to it that everything moved smoothly and all others who were responsible for the outcome. Despite the large crowd, no accidents were reported.

"FRESHNESS AND EXTRA FLAVOR SOLVED MY PROBLEM!"

This Pennsylvania Woman Combines Flavor and Nourishment In Every Meal with A&P Bread.

1 "My two children were always complaining about the bread I served. It seemed too hard, or too stale, or too tasteless. As a result, we ate very little nourishing bread."

2 "Then, one day, a friend suggested A&P Bread. She said freshness determined flavor."

3 "The results were grand. My family simply raved about A&P Bread's freshness and flavor."

4 "Now we eat it regularly. And it's so economical, I've saved $10 on bread bills alone."

Drug Smuggling In The Orient Alarms British

China's Millions Are Forsaking Opium For Other Drugs

(International News Service)

SINGAPORE, October 29.—The growth of drug smuggling in the Far East, following attempted suppression of opium smoking in China, is causing British authorities here considerable alarm.

It is feared large quantities of drugs are being smuggled into the Colony. Last year 871 ounces were seized by Singapore customs officers, compared with only 50 ounces in 1932.

China's millions, faced with the death penalty in their own country for opium smoking, are taking to drugs which do not leave the telltale marks of opium.

It is thought probable that many of these new addicts will enter the Straits Settlements and other British colonies, as they have already entered Hong Kong.

Both heroin and cocaine are easy to smuggle, as opposed to opium, because of their small bulk. One manufacture 300,000 "dope pills."

In 1930, 5,344 ounces of heroin were seized in Singapore on board an Italian ship which arrived from China—enough to swamp the whole of Malaya and the Middle East. Since then no seizures of this drug have been made in Singapore—despite the fact that the heroin habit is known to be spreading.

A great deal of the narcotics sent out to China are smuggled into other countries by sailors by ingenius methods. Heroin, for example is manufactured in enormous quantities in Fukien. There is another large factory in Hankow.

About 970 men and women are believed to have been executed in China during last year, alone for violation of the laws prohibiting trading in and consumption of illegally manufactured drugs.

School Plan Saves $250,000 A Year

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Oct. 19.—The state of Oregon, by placing all state-owned institutions of higher learning under a singe directing head, has effected a saving of $250,000 a year, according to Frederick M. Hunter, chancellor of the Oregon schools.

"Anyone with a little common sense could have done the same thing," Dr. Hunter said. "All that has been necessary is to get the officials of the various schools together on a common sense program and we haven't had a single major conflict.

Under Chancellor Hunter's direction are a state university, a state college of agriculture, a medical extension center, an oceanic biological center and ten branch experiment stations.

Nazi Culture Purge Hits Wagner Opera

(International News Service)

MUNICH—Nazi culture leaders have begun to civilize Wagner's opera's. "Goetterdaemmerung" is the first to undergo the culture purge and be "brought into line with Third Reich discoveries regarding the amazing cultural level of our so-called barbaric ancestors."

The "barbaric Teutons" specified by Wagner himself for his "Goetterdaemmerung" have accordingly had their wild hair shorn, their fearsome gestures subdued, and their primitive raiment changed to "the costumes of German noblemen". The change will be placed before the world during the next summer festival in Munich, second most famous Wagnerian stage on the Continent

More Women Police Wanted In Burma

(International News Service)

RANGOON—More women police are needed in Burma. Miss Nicoll-Jones, the first woman police inspector of the country, said so at a meeting of the National Council of Women.

"Women police are needed," she said. "Not to take the place of policemen, but to serve with them for the common good, as a part of the police force and with duties having special references to women and children.

"There is a need for policewomen in Burma for the suppression of juvenile crime and offenses against women and girls."

Chinese Start Trip To Tombs Of Ancestors

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O.—Sixteen departed Chinese have been started on the first leg of the trip to their final resting place, in accordance with one of the most sacred of Chinese practices, observed for hundreds of years.

The remains of the 16 Chinese, all of whom died here were taken from the Chinese burial section of West Park Cemetery here to be shipped to the homes of relatives in China, where they will be buried again.

The disinterment, financed by a fund of $5,000 raised by the On Leon Tong and the Hip Sing Tong, was in charge of the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Society. Within a few weeks, the remains of 120 Chinese buried in Cleveland and in other Ohio cities, will have been sent to the homeland, Tong officials said.

Chinese here explained it is the eternal hope of every Chinese to be buried beside his ancestors. Some save the necessary funds during their lifetime, and those who die without money are buried in foreign ground until relatives or fellow Tong members make arrangements for a grave in China.

In each casket disinterred here, there was a bottle containing a white cloth on which the dead person's name, the cause of death and the address of relatives was written. The remains were placed in metal containers and later packed in wooden crates. The crates were shipped to New York and then placed aboard the next China-bound ocean steamer.

USE PSYCHOLOGY IN HIRING MEN

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—Psychological tests are rapidly becoming important in the selection of employes for Pennsylvania industries, Dr. Bruce V. Moore, chairman of the department of education and psychology at Pennsylvania State college, reported here.

Collaborating with the college, industrial plants and business concerns throughout the state plan to give employment tests to nearly 7000 job applicants during the current academic year, Dr. Moore said.

The doctor added that the employment selection service is available to any Pennsylvania employer willing to pay the cost of materials and supervision.

Employment psychological tests are of particular value when an industry must pick a few apprentices from a large number of applicants, Dr. Moore stated.

MAMIE, MOTHER CAT, REARING SIX SKUNKS

(International News Service)

JUNEAU, Wis. — Joseph Kastenmeier's cat, Mamie, has taken to mothering a brood of six skunks, and what's more, she intends to keep on rearing the youngsters.

Mamie discovered the six striped creatures in the woods recently, and promptly brought them home where she could take care of them. A state conservation warden returned the skunks to the woods. Persistent Mamie revisited the woods and now has the skunks back again.

Joseph's only feeling in the matter is that he may be shunned by his friends.

Among the things that make you learn to visit relatives is having your cook quit.

The worst of losing an umbrella is that you realize how its rightful owner once felt.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WON'T DO HOME WORK

While I was in Europe last summer, the following letter reached my desk. I wonder how many children are like the one described, and how many mothers are like the describer. You and I suffer with the child and mother as we read this letter. Tomorrow I shall continue with the case.

"Dear Dr. Myers: I do need your help so much...What would you do with a boy of 11 who has neither the wish nor the will to learn? He has failed twice in school, and when he did pass it was only on the barest margin. He took 5B for two semesters, and was recommended for 5-A only on condition that he be tutored this summer.

"We are in moderate circumstances, but so willing to help him find himself. We engaged a woman of the sweetest personality and patience (she'd need it) to take him at her home for one hour three times a week. . . .

"Arithmetic was the bane of my existence—I LOATHED it—and so I can sympathize with my son's trouble in that direction. I do feel sorry for him, I do want to help him. . . .

"Now one would think that with all this kind and sympathetic assistance he would unfold like a flower. Do not mistake my meaning. I did not expect a miracle. But I did expect to have his interest and co-operation.

To Help Him Help Self.

"His teachers, his daddy and I have been kind, patient, giving our time, money and thought, to help him find himself. . . . I required him to work at home between lessons for two hours in the morning. The rest of the day was his own.

"We haven't expected too much. We went back to third grade work repairing the foundation, and hoping to go on. We didn't tire him with too much at one time. . . . I'm sure we have been intelligent and loving as well—but it comes to naught.

"He doesn't want to learn! He resents the whole thing bitterly and deeply. He doesn't rage or slam doors—he cloaks himself with sullen fury. He actually chokes on his own rage, and shakes like a volcano about to explode—his face a black steam cloud (it's really terrible) each morning when I say, 'Let's do our lesson for today.'

"I ignore the temper and endeavor to go on, hoping for it to pass away. I stay with him and work problem for problem and word for word—helping, helping, helping—trying to down my growing sense of frustration and futility and discouragement, and, yes, anger—in the face of his indifference and rage."

My New York By James Aswell

Copyright, 1936, Central Press Association

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A Chronic New Yorker takes a Quiz:

Q. When the chattersmiths mention "Boradway" what street do they really more often mean?

A. West 52nd street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues, where there are 25 cabarets in a single block.

Q. What beverage does Tallulah Bankhead drink by the case, sometimes four and five bottles at a sitting?

A. The soft drink that made Atlanta, Ga., famous—along with Sherman's seige.

Q. What did Vinton Freedley do about the swarms of candid cameramen who descended upon rehearsals of his "Red, Hot and Blue" musical, as the lens-snapping craze continues to make New York a city of amateur photographers?

A. He politely but firmly showed them the stage door. But not as a photograhic subject.

Q. What is the curious fact about Nora Foley, the housekeeper for the Waldorf Astoria?

A. She has never kept house for herself in her life.

Q. What promise did John Gielgud, the town's darling of the "Hamlet" fanciers, make—which he will very likely break, if we know actors?

A. That he will not play the part of the mad Dane after he is 35. He is now 32.

Q. Who are New York's most conspicuous "mama's boys"?

A. Clifton Webb, Jack Oakie when he's in town, Richard Watts, Jr., the drama critic with pink cheeks and politics, and Nelson Eddy on trips East. Oh, yes—and Paul Whiteman. And Milton Berle. Say, who started this line of questioning? The whole town's full of mama's boys, which is not a bad sign when you think of it. Did I mention Gene Raymond?

Q. What is the title of the blush-making book that proves those double-entendre lyrics the fashionable entertainers intone look distressingly naughty in print, without the tinkle of a piano or the sly smile of the raconteur?

A. "Why Should Penguins Fly?" by Dwight Fiske.

Q. Who is the first male Social Registerite to crash the plushy cellars with a song routine—after a two-year rush of lady Blue Bookers into cabaret-warbling?

A. Lawrence White, of the enormously up-eyebrowed Rumson family.

Q. Why does Helen Hayes abominate the flavor of apples?

A. Because she has had to insert slices of apple in both cheeks to make up for her part as Queen Victoria in "Victoria Regina" for more than a year.

Q. What concerns will imitate the "Big Board" of the New York Stock Exchange on the night of November 3, with chalk and wire service reports?

A. The radio stations, broadcasting election returns.

Q. When a pilot takes over the Queen Mary or the Normandie at Quarantine for the ticklish journey to the dock, is the pilot responsible for the safety of the ship he is steering?

A. He is not. The captain is still responsible.

Q. Who are the most overworked, the most underpaid and the least glorified, besides being the most efficient of city employees in New York?

A. The firemen.

Q. What playboy exquisite and journalist, so elegant he is rumored to have struck a waiter once for serving out of the wrong side of his mouth, carries an armful of detective thrillers out of a 44th Street bookstore every week-end for secret consumption?

A. Lucius Beebe.

Church Of Truth Christening At Sunday Service

NOW QUICKER RELIEF FOR PILES

IRIL suppositories, were first developed for the use of doctors who specialize in rectal disorders. They have a five-way action that has led physicians to call them the ideal treatment for the quick relief of the horrible discomfort of hemorrhoids. They stop all pain within a few seconds; they check bleeding quickly; they promote healing of broken tissues and fissures; they soften and lubricate, making bowel movement easy and painless. IRIL suppositories contain no narcotics or harmful drugs; they are safe for home use.

IRIL is also made in the form of an ointment for quick relief of itching, burning and soreness accompanying external or protruding piles.

TAKE WEIGHT OFF TIRED FEET

Lose Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

If your feet and ankles feel tired and ache all over—because you are carrying too much fat—do something about it. Try the treatment that has helped millions to reduce excess weight.

There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right.

All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace.

Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks — and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out in this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same method used by doctors. So don't waste your time or money striving to reduce with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get a box of Marmola today from your druggist.

TO PRESENT CONFESSION IN BROOKVILLE CASE

Tower Murder Trial Under Way

Defense To Battle Against Introduction Of Alleged Confession

JURY COMPOSED OF FOURTEEN MEN

(International News Service)

BROOKVILLE, Pa., Oct. 28—Commonwealth attorneys today laid the groundwork for introduction of the confession they assert was made by John Becker 37, a night watchman, to the brutal slaying of Miss Katherine Bracken, 42, a telegraph operator.

The jury of 12 men and two alternates was taken to the scene of the slaying, the lonely signal tower of the Pittsburgh and Shawmut railroad where Miss Bracken was accustomed to work alone at nights.

There, the commonwealth asserts, Becker broke in upon her, felled her with an inkstand, assaulted her and then flung her body over n embankment ouside after slashing her throat.

The defense was prepared to put up a vigorous fight against introduction of the confession which, it contends, was obtained by force.

Establish Manner of Death

The first day of the trial was consumed with establishing the manner in which Miss Bracken died. Testimony, on this score, was given by Dr. W. A. Dick, of Brookville. He fixed the cause of death as the cuts on her throat and a serious head injury.

State policeman Paul Longon identified the heavy metal inkstand allegedly used to beat the woman unconscious. Harry Walker, a civil engineer, testified as to the accuracy of a map of the scene.

Reed Letty, who with his son James discovered the murder, told of meeting Lee Wilcox, Glenn Schools, and Ira Wineberg in the engine house before going to the signal tower. He found the lights out, he said, and blood spattered over the walls. He told of calling the others to help him in the search and how Wilcox found the body in the ditch at the foot of the embankment. The woman's clothing was pulled up he testified and her throat and wrists were slashed. The others bore out his testimony.

James M. Painter, the second trick watchman at the glass plant where Becker was substituting for his uncle, John Becker, Sr., on the night of the slaying, said when he came on duty early in the morning Becker told him:

"Kate Bracken got murdered."

The uncle said his nephew came to his home told his wife of the murder and left. His nephew, he said, was attired in a cap, a firearms jacket, brown overalls, and "army" shoes.

Average Height Of College Man Rises An Inch In Decade

(Special To The News)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 29—The average height of students who enter the Pennsylvania State College is increasing at the rate of nearly an inch every ten years, Dr. J. P. Ritenour, college physician, reported today after completing physical examinations of the freshman class.

The average incoming student also is gaining ten pounds in weight during the same period of time, he said.

The 1034 male students examined this fall showed an average weight of 142.64 pounds and an average height of 68.42 inches in comparison with the 137.6 pounds and 67.8 inches of the freshman class of the fall of 1930, the first year for which figures were available today.

Figures for the seven-year period show a steady trend upward in both height and weight, except for a drop in the fall of 1931, when the average weight fell to 137 pounds from 137.6 pounds of 1930, and the average height descended to 67.6 inches from 67.6.

In 1932 however, weight rose to 140.7 pounds and height to 68.1 inches. The gain continued through the following years, with a weight of 149.9 pounds and a height of 68.2 in 1933, and a weight of 142.22, and a height of 68.24 in 1935. Figures for 1934 were not available.

Figures for the seven years included only male students, but the average girl in this year's freshman class is taller and lighter than her counterpart of the fall of 1935.

The average weight of 265 freshmen girls examined this fall was 121.18 pounds and the height 63.58 inches. The average freshman girl in 1935 however, weighed 122.38 pounds and was 63.44 inches tall.

The increasing height of students at the Pennsylvania State College, Dr. Ritenour pointed out, follows the trend among college students everywhere, a recent world-wide survey by the American Medical Association having shown an increase of more than two inches in height among college freshmen in the past eighty years.

Charge Economy Pledge Is Violated In State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 29.—The Republican state committee today singled out the attorney general's office as a violator of Governor Earle's platform which pledged economy and efficiency in governmental operation.

"During the 1934 campaign, Democratic spellbinders claimed the department of justice was overstaffed and too expensive," the committee said in a statement. "Today it has a larger staff and is costing even more."

The committee charged that "since the beginning of the administration there has been an increase of 20 per cent in the number of employes and a rise of more than $50,000 in the department's payroll."

Kills Wife And Two Children, Is Suicide Victim

World War Veteran Of Cuyahoga Falls, O., Stages Tragic Shooting In Home

AKRON, O., Oct. 29—A family of four in suburban Cuyahoga Falls last night was found wiped out by rifle fire, two of them school children who were shot to death as they slept.

Relatives coming to pay a call discovered the bodies of William Harrison Slabaugh, 46, a draftsman and graduate of Mount Union College, his wife Josephine, 42, and their son William, Jr. 12 and daughter, Marilyn 10.

Slabaugh shot his wife and his children and then himself, according to police and County Prosecutor Harman E. Werner.

The draftsman was a World War veteran, Capt. Wester Watson of the Falls police said he learned.

The cozy home at 2463 Third St., where the Slabaugh's had lived ten years was paid for and Slabaugh had no financial or other difficulties, Werner said he learned. Neighbors told Werner however, that Slabaugh had complained of a severe headache for several days.

No Identification Of Prisoner As Volant Robber

Bank Officials Fail To Identify Bydo As One Of Hold-up Men

Phillip Cox, Mrs. Mabel Brown and two bank examiners, who were in the Volant bank when it was robbed by several youths recently, failed to make any positive identification of Frank Bydo at Youngstown as one of the bandits in a "stand-up" at Youngstown yesterday, according to State Trooper Al Knudsen. All of them said Bydo resembled one of the bandits but refused to make a positive identification he stated.

Bydo denied he was near here the day of the crime and also denied being implicated in the state liquor store robbery, Produce street, in October, 1935, although he was alleged by others to have been implicated, according to police.

Bydo escaped from the Mahoning county, O., jail and it was while he was at large that the Volant bank was held up and robbed.

Recaptured several days ago, he was sentenced on jail breaking and abduction charges to 1 to 30 years in Mansfield reformatory and 5 to 30 years in prison respectively. He will serve one year in the reformatory and then be sent to the Columbus prison, according to information received here.

AROUND CITY HALL

Excellent relations exists between the city firemen and policemen as has been shown during the past week. When a shortage of policemen occurred last week Fire Chief McIlvaine loaned firemen to Chief Ralph Criswell for traffic duty. When the family and home coming to the New Castle works of the Carnegie-Illinois plant was held yesterday several more firemen were loaned to the police department to assist in handling traffic in the tin mill vicinity. Such co-operation is meritorious and rebounds to the credit of the city.

One of the reasons for the shortage of police is sickness and days off each week as called by by state law. When four men were added to the police force several months ago they did not go to work on "beats" here. Instead they were sent for training to the State Police school at Hershey. Four of these police will report for duty here November 1. Several of the men now serving temporarily together with Harry Reese who also has been named a city policeman will be sent to the training school.

Sometime ago the cost of gasoline was before council and it was decided to inquire into a proposition as to whether or not it would be cheaper for the city to have trucks and cars take on gasoline at service stations or continue the present method of drawing gasoline from city pumps. Mayor Charles E. McGrath expressed the belief that some gasoline is wasted at the city pumps. He also said there was a loss in gasoline when bought in large lots. Councilman J. D. Alexander said he would obtain prices. The question probably will be settled soon. Glenn Throop, the city engineer, is not much in favor of having city trucks and cars obtain gasoline from service stations. He pointed out that the scrapers, rollers and big trucks take on gasoline at city pumps every morning then go direct to jobs. He believes that delay will be caused by journeys to service stations.

Fire Chief Dick McIlwaine believes education can do considerable toward eliminating fire hazards. Time and again firemen, given the role of inspectors, have visited cellars and rooms in buildings and urged owners or renters to eliminate rubbish and other fire hazards. He established a new wrinkle also at boxing and wrestling bouts. Usually men like to puff a cigar or cigarette at such entertainments—and the lighted cigar or cigarette is a menace in addition to the smoke clogging the athlete's lungs. The fire chief, to eliminate likelihood of fire, has been sending uniformed men to the entertainments and as a result has apparently educated the athletic-loving public to not smoke at the indoor athletics.

Americanism: (1) "I don't think much of that fellow's performance." (2) "You say he gets five thousand a week? Wonderful genius, isn't he?"

One of the scribes calls the campaign a drama, but in a drama it's the plot that thickens instead of the dirt.

The TRUTH About Who Pays

MR. AND MRS. VOTER:—

For the fiscal year of 1935 the Secretary of the Treasury swore that the total income of the United States Government was $3,800,467,201.00, not including BORROWED MONEY of $3,575,357,964.00. Keep the FIRST FIGURE in mind.

Here's Who Paid Tax

Corporation Capital Stock Tax	$ 91,508,121.00
Excess Profit Tax	6,560,482.00
Income Tax Paid by 472,174 Corporations	572,117,876.00
Income Tax Paid by 3,660,105 persons	527,112,506.00
Gift Taxes	71,671,276.00
Estate Taxes	140,440,682.00
Hidden Taxes Paid by the "Little Fellow"	$2,391,056,258.00
Total	$3,800,467,201.00

Some of the Taxes the "Little Fellow" Paid:

Tax on Matches	$ 6,000,101.00
Tobacco Tax	459,178,265.00
Liquor Tax	411,021,772.00
Gasoline Tax	189,332,540.00
Tax on Automobiles, Tires, Etc.	77,255,055.00
Tax on Toilet Preparations	12,643,517.00
Tax on Chewing Gum, Candy, Etc.	1,032,463.00
Tax on Sporting Goods	7,032,448.00
Tax on Mechanical Refrigerators	6,663,677.00
Tax on Radio Equipment, Etc.	3,624,904.00
Tax on Playing Cards	4,351,299.00
Amusement Taxes	21,163,892.00
Telephone Taxes	19,741,434.00
Tax on Oils for Making Soap, Oleo, Etc.	24,457,091.00

Yep! They got $6,560,482.00 Excess Profit Tax in 1935, but BELIEVE IT OR NOT, they took the "little guy" for $6,000,101.00 for taxes on matches; YES, TAXES ON MATCHES, IF YOU PLEASE!

The New Dealers took 472,174 corporations for $572,117,876.00 income taxes in 1935. (An average of only $1,220.00 per corporation). BUT . . . how they put Tom, Dick, Harry, Sade and Sue through the wringer and squeezed them for $870,200,397.00 for taxes on tobacco and liquor.

3,660,105 persons (shall we call them Economic Royalists) filed returns and paid $527,112,506.00 personal income taxes in 1935. But Lizzie and Henry, Dot and John, dug up $266,587,595.00 to pay gasoline tax and taxes on automobiles, tires, tubes, etc., in the same year.

OH, YES! The 472,174 corporations paid capital stock tax of $91,508,121.00, BUT Frank, Tony, Margaret and Mary paid $100,710,725.00 taxes on playing cards, toilet articles, sporting goods, mechanical refrigerators, admission taxes to movies, etc.; taxes on chewing gum and candy, and tax for oleo and for his soap.

From the above it is easily seen WE ALL PAY. Yes, protect your home and property by voting for Landon and the Republican Party, who are pledged to give all a fair, just and equitable tax bill, but more than that, are pledged to cut waste and make your tax dollar do the work that you make it do in your own home and on your own property.

Don't take our word for these figures. Anyone can get them. See the World Almanac for 1936, pages 293 to 302, at the Public Library, or any newsstand, and see for yourself who's getting "trimmed".

Barbers Rated On Talk, Says Old Timer Who Has Lathered For 50 Years

(International News Service)

HOLDENVILLE, Okla. — Fifty years a barber, David H. Sharp, of Holdenville, finds members of his craft more talkative than formerly.

"The first year I was a barber," he recalls, "you did not talk unless talked to. But it's different now. The more hullabaloo and noise you make, why, the better barber you are."

He still prefers to work in silence, however, and believes that religious and political discussions do not mix with the work.

The 68-year-old barber started his career in McLeansboro, Ill., where he was born and finished high school. He worked in East St. Louis, Ill., Kansas City, Mo., Oklahoma City and other Southern cities before coming here in 1901.

He has clipped the hair and shaved many celebrities during his life, and probably because he was a good ball-player and track man in his youth, the athletes stand out best in his memory.

Included among these were Jim Jeffries, former world's heavyweight boxer; Battling Nelson, famous fighter—"he had the biggest ears I ever saw," Sharp said; and Frank Gotch, the wrestler. "Gotch filled my chair, and I lathered his face until it was as hard as a rock," the barber recalled.

Among the veteran's prize possessions is a hone which he has been using 40 years.

The family name must have had some influence in this case as Sharp's brother, Guy, and their father, C. M. Sharp, both now dead, also were barbers.

Unknown Woman Annoys British Divorce Judges

Hereafter Her Name Must Be Given In Divorce Case

(International News Service)

LONDON—"Guilty of misconduct with a woman unknown" has been the finding in 75 per cent of British divorce suits in recent years.

Hereafter such verdicts will form a negligible percentage and in a few years will have disappeared from divorce court records.

British divorce court judges have decided in the future to demand identification of the unknown woman in cases where the name of the co-respondent is not disclosed. Only in exceptional circumstances will the "unknown woman" angle be permitted.

Attorneys are now declining to advise clients to go forward with divorce cases when success depends on proving association with a "woman unknown."

The effect of the judges' decision is that professional co-respondents have lost a profitable living.

"Unknown women" have netted from $125 to $500, according to the means of their clients, for every divorce in which their services have figured.

These women knew their jobs well, and conducted their employers through the intricacies of an incriminating week-end without damage.

NOT that we want to alarm you, but a lot of persons who are all right today will wake up tomorrow in the hospital—the victim of an accident.

ASK YOUR DOCTOR THIS

Ask Him Before Giving Your Child an Unknown Remedy

Practically any doctor you ask will warn: "Don't give your child unknown remedies without asking your doctor first."

When it comes to the widely used children's remedy — "milk of magnesia," the standard of the world is established. For over half a century many doctors have said "PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia." Safe for children. No other is "quite like it."

Keep this in mind, and say "PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA" when you buy. Now also in tablet form. Get the form you prefer. But see that what you get is labeled "Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia."

ALSO IN TABLET FORM:

PRESIDENT ON FINAL TOUR OF KEYSTONE STATE

last big public appearance in Madison Square Garden, where Gov. Landon is speaking this evening.

At Wilkes-Barre

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Oct. 29.—President Roosevelt used fighting language this morning in a denunciation of "pay-envelope propaganda" by employers opposing him in this election.

He charged that employers were attempting to force their workers to vote for the Landon-Knox ticket in a selfish desire to scuttle the social security act because it would cost the employer three dollars for every one the working man puts up.

The president delivered his challenge to the opposition party in friendly Pennsylvania territory here, addressing a big gathering of anthracite miners who were paying tribute to their pioneer leader, John Mitchell. The Wilkes-Barre speech was the first of a fast series of final appearances in the hotly contested Keystone State.

At State Capital

Harrisburg, Oct. 29.—Harrisburg dropped the business and political routine of a state capital today to welcome President Franklin D. Roosevelt—it's first presidential caller in 30 years.

By the thousands, central Pennsylvania poured into the city, throughout the morning. They came by special train, automobile and bus and converged in an enthusiastic army on the now glistening $13,000,000 State Capitol

Other hundreds of local residents gathered at the Pennsylvania Railroad station to greet the president's entourage, expected to arrive here from Wilkes-Barre early this afternoon.

The entire city took on a mardi gras spirit. Bunting hung from store and house windows in red, white and blue. Many merchants had "closed shop" to enable their employes to hear and see the president.

School children by the thousands, dismissed at mid-day, filled the sidewalks along the route the president's party was to pass.

It was a typical Indian summer day of virtually cloudless sky, warm sun and brisk air.

Book Party Staged By Blue Star Club

Unique Hallowe'en Party With Members Dressed As Book Characters

Unusual as it might seem, the book party which was staged by the Blue Star club of the free public library Wednesday afternoon was very unique, interesting and educational.

Those present were dressed as book characters, each from his favorite book and it was then endeavor of each to name the character which his associate represented. The books which were represented were: The Dutch Twins, The Swiss Twins, June Hope, Little Missy, Dance of the Hours, and Sis Henry Mongan.

Sixteen were present and those who received honors for the best costumes and the most appropriate attitudes were: Kathleen Maher, Dorothy McGovern, Dorothy Pagley, Vivian Ferro, Carol Boyd, Phoebe Doher, Delores Callahan and Virginia Vitelli.

Miss Alice B. Joyce, children's librarian, had charge of the affair and its success was due almost entirely to her endeavor. The next regular meeting of the club will be on Wednesday afternoon, November 4, in the basement of the library.

PAYS FINE OF $10.00

Paul A. Whiteside paid a fine of $10 on a charge of reckless driving when he faced Mayor Charles E. McGrath Wednesday. He was arrested following an auto accident in Moravia street, early yesterday.

WORKERS: DON'T BE FOOLED

HERE'S THE TRUTH ABOUT OLD AGE PENSIONS:

John L. Lewis Denounces 'Deceit' In Fight On Old-Age Insurance Law

By JOHN L. LEWIS
President of United Mine Workers of America

ALTOONA, Oct. 27.—The widespread action of employers in issuing literature on social security is merely a political subterfuge.

These notices fail to inform the workers that the old-age pension plan is to be financed by joint contributions from industry and labor.

I do not believe that this political raid will be successful. The workers are expecting the opposition to President Roosevelt to resort to every vicious expedient and they are on their guard. It will take more than a few million slips of paper to turn the tide of this election.

Industry would do well to recognize that for once the workers will exercise their own intelligence in the selection of a candidate for President.

Despite this and every similar misrepresentation, despite every spasm of the obvious political agony of the Republican leadership, I predict that the workers of this country will in overwhelming numbers vote for the re-election of President Roosevelt.

William Green, president of American Federation of Labor also denounces deceit.

"I warn you against this kind of propaganda and remind you that this is the kind of legislation for which workers have petitioned and prayed during many years."

Here are some of the questions asked by workers since this propaganda started, together with answers taken from the Act itself:

Q.—What will the worker have to pay?

A.—For the next three years he pays 1 per cent of his wages. The amount increases until 1949 when it reaches 3 per cent, and that is what he pays thereafter. In other words, if he earns $100 a month he pays a $1 a month now; $3 a month at the end of 12 years.

Q.—Does the employer pay anything?

A.—Yes, he pays the same amount the worker pays.

Q.—What does the worker get for his money?

A.—He gets a pension for life, starting when he is 65.

Q.—What does the employer get?

A.—Nothing except relief from the obligation, recognized by some, of establishing private pensions for his own workers.

Q.—How is the workers' contribution collected?

A.—The law requires employers to deduct it from the pay of workers and turn it over to the government.

Q.—Where does it go then?

A.—Into the United States Treasury.

Q.—Can the government spend the worker's dollar for other purposes?

A.—Some employers are trying to make you think so, and technically it is true. The Supreme Court has ruled that everything collected by the Governrment must go into the general fund. The Social Security Act sets up on ald age reserve account, however, and makes permanent provision for putting into it each year an amount which will make the old age insurance account actuarially sound. This amount will be much larger, each year, than the amount to be paid out in benefits. The act provides that the rest of the fund shall collect interest at 3 per cent; shall be invested in Government bonds.

Q.—Does this act provide for a "tax on wages?"

A.—The act calls it a tax in order to meet constitutional requirements laid down by the Supreme Court. Actually it is no more a tax than the money you put in your savings account. It is and remains your money, laid aside by you to provide security in old age.

Q.—What workers have to pay?

A.—All workers except those on farms or domestic labor in homes, casual labor, employes of the Federal, state, and local governments, and employes of institutions operated for religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational purposes.

Q.—Do these other workers get pensions?

A.—They do not. Only those who pay into the fund are entitled to benefits.

Q.—What happens if a worker moves from one state to another?

A.—There is no change in his status. This is a Federal insurance fund and it applies to a man or woman no matter where he works, if he is otherwise eligible.

Q.—What happens if a man is discharged or becomes too sick to work, or if a woman marries and stops working?

A.—When you stop working you stop paying into the fund but you don't lose your right to money already paid in. A man or woman who is out of work for a time, for any cause whatever, starts paying into the fund again when he gets a job. He has no back payments to make up. He pays only while working. After he is 65 he draws benefits based on every week he worked between Jan. 1, 1937, and the time he became 65. For instance, if a young woman works for five years and then marries and never returns to work, she is entitled to a pension when she becomes 65, based on the amount of wages she earned in those five years.

Q.—What happens if a man or woman changes from a job covered by the law to one which is not?

A.—He or she stops paying the insurance fund, but is still entitled to a pension, at 65, based on the amount earned on the job covered by the law.

Q.—What happens if a worker dies before becoming 65?

A.—A lump-sum payment is made to his family. It equals 3½ per cent of the wages he earned after 1936. In other words this lump sum is greater, at all times, than the amount paid into the fund by the worker, for while it amounts to 3½ per cent of his wages the payment he makes is from 1 to 3 per cent.

Q.—What happens if a man dies a few months after reaching 65?

A.—His family gets a lump sum amounting to 3½ per cent of the wages he earned after 1936, less any monthly pension payments made to him.

Q.—Will some workers pay more into the fund than they get out?

A.—Never. No matter how young the worker is when he starts paying and no matter how high his wages are during the time he pays, his benefit payments are always higher, because they are based on the amount earned.

Q.—Couldn't a worker do as well through a private insurance company?

A.—No.

Q.—Does the plan apply to workers getting large salaries as well as small ones?

A.—It does, but only the first $3000 of a worker's yearly salary is counted. If you earn more than that neither you nor your employer pays on it and only that sum is counted in figuring your benefits.

Q.—How large will the pensions be?

A.—They depend entirely on your earnings. The minimum is $10 a month, the maximum $85. The figure depends on how much you earned and how steadily you worked.

Q.—Will the cost of administering this system eat up a large portion of the funds, say the entire employer contribution?

A.—It will not. The 3 per cent interest earned annually by money in the fund probably will cover all costs.

Q.—Why do some employers say workers will have to pay 4 per cent of their wages?

A.—If they do they are not telling the truth. Three per cent is the largest payment ever made and that does not go into effect for 12 years. The rate may even be reduced before then.

Q.—Can a person draw benefits when he becomes 65 even if he owns property and has other savings?

A.—He can. He receives benefit payments just as he would receive them from a life insurance company, with no questions asked as to his income or possessions.

Q.—What does the Republican candidate offer instead of this Roosevelt plan?

A.—He believes only destitute old persons should receive pensions; in other words he would do away with the contributory insurance system and provide a "dole" for persons forced in their old age, to take the pauper's oath.

The Social Security Act does not take from you any pension you may now be entitled to receive from private industry.

Merry Host Enjoys Party At Y. M. C. A.

Annual Masquerade Is Attended By Crowd; Prizes Bestowed

Goblins, ghosts and witches walked the halls and rooms of the Y. M. C. A. last night when a happy host of members of the boys' department participated in the annual Hallowe'en masquerade party of the association.

Ed. Moore won the door prize, awarded a short time after festivities began.

The grand march was one of the colorful features, and the costumed youngsters had a merry time as they marched in review before the judges. Charles Burton, president of the Western Pennsylvania Young Men's conference of the "Y" and an active "Y" leader here; Jack Mechling, Gerald Morris, Joe Proctor and William Winters were the judges.

At the close the group enjoyed the refreshments served in the banquet hall. A pool swim followed.

Prize winning costumes were worn by the following: Orville Flora, Robert Kelly, Frank Gardio, Dick Moorhead, Robert Geattle and Charles Read.

POLICE HAVE EXCITEMENT

Police were tossed into seething excitement late yesterday afternoon when a report was received of a child being kidnaped from the Pearson street school section. It developed that there is domestic trouble between the parents and that the child had been taken by the father, who upon advice of Deputy Sheriff Elmer Taylor, was stopped at Youngstown. The situation was referred to the district attorney, according to reports.

Reminder: When putting away white clothes for the season, store them unstarched and unironed to keep them white. Wrapping them in blue tissue paper also helps.

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

If you think an operation is always the only way to escape the misery of torturing Piles, it's because you haven't heard of HEM-ROID, the harmless internal medicine discovered by a western physician.

After years of study Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was convinced that the cause of Piles was internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins filled with stagnant blood—and that the right and safe way to get freedom from Pile agony was to remove the cause with an internal medicine. Immediately the doctor set to work to find the remedy. He succeeded and called his prescription HEM-ROID.

Pile sufferers everywhere are benefitting by Dr. Leonhardt's discovery, so why doubt or delay longer when Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co., and all druggists say, "No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must show you the safe clean way to get rid of your pile misery or money back."

Says 19,000,000 Turkeys Ready For U. S. Markets

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Oct. 29.—Talking turkey—

F. E. Wilson, secretary of wholesale poultry dealers here reported today there would be 19,000,000 turkeys on the market for Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners in the United States, an increase of 4,000,000 over last year. He added "prices will be cheaper, too."

On Court House Hill

Justice of the Peace Glover of Wampum; Justice of the Peace Ira Minteer of Slippery Rock township, and Constable W. J. Rohrer of the same township, had business at the court house today.

R. J. McComb of Plaingrove township, has appointed Jay McCune as Deputy Constable to serve in the first district of Plaingrove at the coming election.

Axel Carlson registered his diploma as an optometrist at the prothonotary's office yesterday.

Constable W. J. Rohrer of Slippery Rock township, has appointed Warren Johnson as deputy constable for the second district on election day and Herbert Aiken for the third district.

John Black, of Washington township, was at the county commissioners' office this morning to see if anything could be done about some water pipes that have been torn up by workers who are improving the Potter Run road. Mr. Black's house is on one side of the road and his dairy barn on the other. The water pipes were buried four feet under the road between the well and the barn. They were torn up by a road machine and Black has been without running water at his barn for over a week. He claims that he was told that the pipes would be replaced, but nothing has been done. The commissioners were of the opinion that it is a matter he must take up with the local highway superintendent, John Shaw.

The state highway department announces that plans are now being made for snow removal during the coming winter. Last winter it cost the state of Pennsylvania five million dollars to clear off the snow and ice. The department hopes it won't have to spend that much this year, but who knows?

Superintendent Perry Snyder of the county home has a force of inmates engaged in digging potatoes. It is estimated that the crop this year will run around five hundred bushels. There would have been more had it not been for the dry spell last summer, however the crop will go a long way toward supplying the needs of the home during the coming winter. In addition to the potatoes raised there has been more than enough vegetables to supply the home during the past summer. Mrs. Snyder and assistants have put up hundreds of cans of tomatoes, peppers, cucumbers, corn and beans.

Registration Clerk Thomas Edmunds reports that there are still a number of registrants whose name appear twice on the registration books. They registered last year and then came back and registered again this year, possibly forgetting that their names were already on the books. Cards have been sent to all persons who are doubly registered. Unless they come in and have one of the registrations taken off the books, they will not be allowed to vote at the coming election. There are only three more days during which this can be done.

Judge Musmanno of Pittsburgh who is making quite a record as a foe of drunken drivers, is out with another statement in which he says that simply because some one smells alcohol on a man's breath, it cannot be taken as evidence that he is drunk. There must be something more, such as staggering, poor reflexes, incoherent speech, or something besides the smell of liquor, as the odor alone might come from medicine or some other cause.

Beware The Cough

From a common cold That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many remedies; such as, Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Wild Cherry and Menthol, but also has fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all of these to reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children with remarkable results.

Thousands of doctors use Creomulsion in their own families as well as in their practice knowing how Creomulsion aids nature to soothe the inflamed membranes and heal the irritated tissues as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion top for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible and potent for going to the very seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations and especially those stubborn ones that start with a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Don't worry through another sleepless night—phone or go get a bottle of Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

ERIE EAST TO SEND STRONG TEAM HERE

Erie "Pointing" For New Castle

New Castle Will Have To Be At Best To Upset Lake Erie Opponents

Kickoff Friday At 8 P. M., Hope For Good Weather For Game

WORKING LIKE Trojans, both the New Castle high "Red Hurricane" football team and Erie East high are looking forward to a great battle in Taggart stadium here Friday night. The kickoff at 8 p. m. should find another good crowd on hand if the weatherman will give the locals a "break" just once. There is a preliminary game at 7 o'clock. The gates will open at 6:30 p. m.

There is plenty of interest in the game about to be played here. New Castle went to Erie last year and handed the Hydemen a 14 to 0 upsetting and the Lake Erie boys haven't forgotten it either. They will come here tomorrow night to try and even up the current series at one apiece.

Erie Pointing.

Erie has been "pointing" for the New Castle game. Last week while New Castle was getting a 13 to 12 close shave at Warren the Easters were idle, resting up for the big task that they know will confront them in the backyard of the "Hurricane".

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh, the "Old Fox", has called upon his veteran guard, Paul Small, to try his hand at quarterbacking. The backfield is as new to Small as a $1,000 bill would be to you or I, but nevertheless, the Small boy is a plugger of the first water and can be depended upon to give his best. Just who will get that guard job if Small makes good in the backfield is not known. Chip may have a chance to make the starting grade, or it may be Updegraff, the former Washington high boy who has a lot of fight.

Mumford Out of Lineup.

The presence of Dal Mumford, the veteran field general of the team, in the Erie game is very doubtful, although Trainer Tom Lewis is doing all he can to get that twisted knee and ankle to respond to treatment. Mumford has not been able to rehearse all week long.

New Castle with six victories and a defeat will enter the game with misgivings. Erie East has always been tough to handle and this year it seems as if Coach Jim Hyde has a fine team. They recently battled the Erie Academy team all over the lot, but couldn't score, in a 0-0 deadlock. Ashland, Ky., with a great team won 6 to 0 from Erie East on a "fluke" in the final minutes of the game. As Coach Hyde put it "East outplayed the southerners all during the game, but just went to sleep for a minute or two with a scoreless tie in sight, and zingo, the touchdown went over". Just one of those things.

Preliminary Game.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner has arranged a double-header for Friday night with the New Castle junior varsity team coached by Bill Klee facing Mercer high football team. This game will start at 7 o'clock and should be interesting.

Quite a nice crowd will come here with the Erie East team. No special train is being operated, but several hundred will no doubt drive down to New Castle in event of good weather.

Pirates Will Bid For Dean

William Benswanger, President, Says "We Would Like Very Much To Have Dean"

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29—"We'll go to the limit to get Dizzy Dean," President William Benswanger of the Pittsburgh Pirates said today in reply to a query as to whether the Buccaneers were anxious to acquire the services of the eccentric hurler who has been placed on the auction block by President Branch Rickey, of the St. Louis Cards.

"If St. Louis is ready to talk serious business so are we," Benswanger said.

Money and Players

"I would be glad to see Dizzy in a Pirate uniform. It is impossible to give an estimate of how much we would pay for him but if you want to get something to help a baseball club you can't get it for nothing.

"If we have to pay with cash or players or both, we'll go pretty high. There is no question Dizzy would make a big difference in our team.

The Pirate prexy declined to state what players he would part with if necessary.

Sutherland Will Take 34 Players To New York City

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29.—Coach Jock Sutherland and 34 Pitt Panthers will board a Pullman train this evening, bound for New York fray with Fordham's mighty Rams.

However, Sutherland indicated he would not select the travelers until after today's practice. Dante Dalle Tezze will probably get the right guard assignment while Bill Stapulis was expected to open at full.

Titans Prepare To Meet Thiel

Fathers Of Students To Be Westminster Guests On Saturday

WESTMINSTER IS HOPEFUL OF WIN

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 29.—Westminster college will be host to the fathers of students Saturday as Thiel journeys to New Wilmington to meet a victory-hungry Titan eleven, who have four losses and no wins for the season. On paper, the game belongs to the Titans.

The Titans were a constant threat to the Bethany Bisons, who in turn took a 25-0 game from Thiel without having its goal line menaced. The Lutherans' impressive 18-0 victory over Clarion Teachers proved that the Thiel gridders have some real power.

For the first time this year, Roark's Titans will have a chance to flash an offense. Throughout the season, the Titan pass attack has been a submerged threat; but the bue and white have played a defensive game so much that they have had little chance to uncover any power. Against Geneva, only once did the Titans let loose any power, a futile final-quarter pass-attack.

Casualties have hit the Titans hard this week, with Bailey definitely out for the Thiel game with a fractured rib. Bailey's punting thruout the season has been excellent. The Sharon back's leg has constantly produced good distance, but with occasional errors in judgment in the placing of punts. Laposki, freshman quarter, will probably take a regular place in the Titan backfield until Bailey recovers.

One man in the Thiel backfield will be dangerous to the Titans, Chuck Snyder, 198-pound quarterback. Against Clarion he punted and plunged his way to temporary greatness. Against a Titan line that has been anything but strong this season, Snyder's smashes may prove Westminster's undoing. Behind good interference, Clare, Thiel half, is also dangerous against a team that has shown a weakness in blocking as the Titans have.

The Dads' day contest is set for 2 o'clock with a full program planned for the morning, afternoon and evening to honor visiting fathers.

GOOD SAMARITAN

A man in search of a quiet holiday set out in a small sailing boat, his only equipment consisting of provisions and a wireless set. He sailed serenely for several days, until at last he sighted one of those liners which resemble small towns rather than ships. The appearance of the little boat created excitement on board the liner, which slowed down.

The captain was wondering whether it was a matter of going to the rescue when the holiday maker moved to his transmitter and tapped out the message, "Is there anything I can do for you?"

Shenango And Bessemer High Battle Friday

Bessemer High Field Scene Of Important Game; Kick-off At 3:30 O'Clock

EXPECT BIGGEST CROWD OF SEASON

PRIMED to the highest pitch, Shenango township high school and Bessemer high await their annual gridiron tussle Friday afternoon on the Bessemer high field. The biggest crowd of the season is expected to watch the schoolboys battle in one of the most important games in Lawrence county over the week-end. The kick-off is slated for 3:30 o'clock.

The teams concluded a series of strenuous drills Thursday afternoon. With the exception of several gridders who are laid up with minor injuries, the two squads were proclaimed physically fit by the coaches, Fredericks of Bessemer and Nocera of Shenango. Bessemer may be minus the services of Shoup and Skocic. Skocic has been ill all week, while Shoup is recovering from an injury to a finger. The East New Castle starting lineup will probably be the same as the one that spilled Mars high last week 12-0. The Cementers will have the same 11 men that dropped to Sciencevile, 6-0, with the exception of Shusman, who will play right guard. Anderson will shift from that position to right tackle.

Title At Stake.

As in previous years, the fans are looking forward to another typical Bessemer-Shenango tussle, always filled with action as well as an assortment of football that spells a corker of a game. Bessemer, the defending champs, are confident of repeating this season. A victory over Shenango is the only obstacle that confronts them. Recently, the Cement City representatives bowled over Union. Shenango, on the other hand, must defeat Bessemer and later Union to cop the coveted honors. Shenango expects to back up its team with several hundred rooters.

The probable starting lineups:

Shenango		Bessemer
Tratz	L.E.	Pezzullo
Currie	L.T.	Mettica
Martin	L.G.	DiLullo
Thomas	C.	Hribar
Collingwood	R.G.	Shusman

Lysko	R.E.	Guyletto
Alfreda	Q.B.	DeArment
Grinzovich	L.H.	Caldararo
Arnold	R.H.	Notareski
Kirkwood	F.B.	Galena

Starting time: 3:30 o'clock.

Brooklyn Fans Want New Deal

Think Dodgers Need New Owner, Manager And Good Material

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—A quick swing through the outlying precincts of Brooklyn for observation of the Dodger baseball fans in their native state revealed today that the recent firing of Manager Casey Stengel in the annual "rebuilding" of the club has left much bitterness, but also a large batch of expectations for the future.

Haggard and weary from a tough summer of rooting their Dodgers out of the cellar, the fans begin their long rest for another campaign with their hopes buoyed by reports that:

Governor Hoffman of New Jersey will buy the club for $1,000,000.

Babe Ruth will be installed as manager.

Dizzy Dean will be obtained from the Cardinals.

And the Dodgers will be "rebuilt" into a potential national league pennant- winner for the first time since 1920.

Need New Owner

While the Dodger baseball fans still toss fire-crackers at the umpires and down each others collars, and ring cow bells and conduct themselves in other strange ways at baseball games, not even they will believe that entire cluster of miracles can happen in one place, but they hope for some changes and figure a good start would be in club ownership.

They might get this break, but

Rohrer High In Nonpareil Shoot

Karl Rohrer was high man in the semi-weekly shoot of the Nonpareil club at the west side range with a 190 score out of a possible 200. Rod Davis with 188 was second high.

It was announced that there will not be a shoot at the Nonpareil range tonight, but that the Nonpareil club members will go to Niles, O., for a Penn-Ohio shoot on Friday night. The members are asked to meet at the range at 7 o'clock.

The other results of the shoot on Tuesday night—Adams 182, Shaw 181, Essinger 181, Davies 176, Phipps 176, Logan 170,, Boyd 166, Jinks 162, Dess 125.

Union Ready For Beaver Hi

Grid Game At Union High Field Will Start At 3 O'Clock Friday Afternoon

Head Coach Davey Boyd announced today that his Union high "Blue Devils" will be ready for the invasion of Beaver high on Friday afternoon. The game at the Scotland Lane field will start at 3 o'clock.

It will mark the first grid meeting of the two schools. Beaver comes here with a team that is highly rated in the Beaver valley. They will give the Unions a tough engagement.

Coach Boyd has been working a new combination this week and reports a marked improvement in the team. The Beavers will find the Union boys hard to crack.

New Lineup

Union high will start the game with Captain Fulton, King, Wotowitz and Guinaugh in the backfield. The line will have at the start of the game: Morrison and Stickle at the ends, Wharry and Stickle or Harry at the tackles, McClenahan and Neal at the guards, and Pattison at center.

Joe Ostrosky and Jaskolka are out of the game tomorrow with injuries.

The officials are Sam Richards, Jim Rugh and Dave Hoskins.

In event of good weather the biggest crowd of the year will no doubt find its way to the Union field to watch the schoolboys go through their paces.

Probable Lineups

Following are the probable lineups:

Union High—		Beaver High—
Morrison	L.E.	Black
Wharry	L.T.	Pavlinich

Risko Defeats Harry Balsamo

One-Time Conquerer Of Teddy Yarosz, Wins Easily Over Subway Worker

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sport Editor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—That terrific explosion that struck terror in the hearts of God-fearing folk all the way over in Weehawken and shattered window glass over a 50-mile area has finally been located and identified this morning, after a vigorous check-up by the authorities. It was the bust of Harry Balsamo, the wonder man of pugilism, as he went about the melancholy business of losing nine out of ten rounds to Babe Risko at the Hippodrome last night. The shock, they say, even registered upon the seismograph at Stanford university.

If it turns out that they have no seismograph at Stanford university, that makes it all the better. They felt it anyway. It was that kind of a shock. Not good—but loud.

Lopsided Bout.

Balsamo, who had been spattering everybody on the wallpaper in 46 seconds flat, with a slight favoring wind, was the man who was going to make us forget Ketchell and Paul Berlenbach. Instead he made me remember Al Demaree. Al was the pitcher who had the dice-shooter's technique. He used to shake one up and let it go. That's Balsamo.

He was still taking his wind-up as the bell sounded, ending the tenth round with Risko so far in the lead that some of the 5,000 paid admissions were already back on Broadway, consoling themselves with a pony of vanilla. They had made Balsamo 4 to 1 in the betting before the first bell.

Junior Hi Title At Stake Friday

Ben Franklin And George Washington To Play On Washington Grid

BEN FRANKLIN FAVORED TO WIN

City Junior high football championship will be at stake at 3:30 p. m. Friday, when Franklin and George Washington meet on the George Washington junior high grid. Ben Franklin having won all their games, is a heavy favorite although every member of the Washington aggregation is optimistic, in good condition and intend to take advantage of every break in an effort to win. No doubt a large crowd of followers of both elevens will watch the conflict.

Coach Arthur Alexander has driven his Washingtonians hard during the week and playing tomorrow in their own "back yard" believe they have a splendid chance to win. They point out that in Palmer, Weber, Rucker, Dewberry and Thomas they have a quintet of outstanding gridders that will equal the flashy Clazza and Eddie Sowinski of the visiting team. Coach Alexander is as optimistic as his proteges and hopes his team is "on" for the city title game.

Washington got away to a poor start this season but in each successive game has shown improvement. In the clash with Mercer B team last week they were defeated by a touchdown and conversion in the opening quarters. However, in the last three quarters George Washington outplayed the visitors.

This coupled to strenuous practices and the mental state of his proteges has given Alexander an opportunity to hope for the best when the fast clicking Ben Franklin team invades the North Hill Friday.

Minnesota And Northwestern To Battle Saturday

Undefeated Giants Of Big Ten Will Clash, And Hold National Spotlight

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Saturday will be another day of reckoning for the few remaining unbeaten and untied major football teams, with the Minnesota-Northwestern clash headlining a program that will bring grief to some of the mighty.

The Gophers and Wildcats take everything that makes for drama into their battle, which will top in national interest all other gridiron offerings scattered about the nation on a slate studded with potential upsets.

Twenty-One Straight

Both of the powerful mid-western teams have smashed their way through four opponents this season to keep even pace for the national and Big Ten championships, the Gophers stretching their streak of straight victories to 21 as part of the parade.

Close to that struggle in general interest, of equal importance in the national championship race and definitely figuring in the Rose Bowl scheme is the Fordham-Pitt struggle at the Polo Grounds.

Both games will be a sellout, approximately 50,000 at Dyche Stadium, Evanston, Ill., and 55,000 here.

Other eastern attractions include unbeaten Army and Yale against Colgate and Dartmouth, respectively, and close behind is Holy Cross, taking a perfect record against Pop Warner's Temple Owls.

Many Undefeated

Still another is Villanova, unwhipped, against Bucknell, another mid-west feature is Marquette defending an unmarred season against St. Marys.

Utah State, not only unbeaten but also unscored on, holds interest in the Rocky mountain sector against Auburn will attempt to trip Santa Clara for the first time this season. Auburn also is unwhipped, but has been tied.

The south alone fails to offer a clean record attraction. Every major team there has been at least deadlocked.

apparently not from Gov. Hoffman. Mr. George C. Warren, fish and game commissioner of New Jersey, who allegedly was nogotiating in behalf of the governor, admits only that he approached the bankers and others now in control of the club.

"As for Governor Hoffman having anything to do with it, that's a lie," he said.

Will Trade Dean

The governor is reported to have stated flatly that he was too busy with politics to bother about baseball, which seems to remove him from the race for ownership of the club, but Mr. Warren is still in it, and a dozen others are lined up against the Babe for the managerial job. Somebody will get it within the next few weeks.

Likewise, somebody will get Dizzy Dean, a gent extremely close to the National League predicted. He figures a trade, removing Dizzy from St. Louis and constituting one of the biggest basball has seen, will develop during the winter.

Thursday, Oct. 29.

Dear J. P.

These past few days I have been doing a lot of thinking. When one has nothing to do but think, he thinks of some queer things. There are two questions at present that I am not satisfied with—could you please help me answer them. What do you think of our High School football team? Second, Do you think Hump Gardner should get married? Please give these two questions a little time and then as soon as possible write me your answer.

Your most humble servant,

QUALITY PETE.

Stock Market Moves Forward

Price Changes Are Mostly Fractional In Market Today Despite Advance

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The stock market moved forward again today but price changes were mostly fractional.

Motors, rails, merchandising shares and amusements turned in best performances.

Chrysler gained about a point. General Motors, Auburn and Studebaker improved fractionally.

In merchandising issues Gimbels rose a point while Macy and Woolworth did about as well.

Steels were generally improved, although Bethlehem was easier through early dealings in advance of the directors' meeting this afternoon. U. S. Steel climbed nearly a point.

Atchison gained a point, but other rails showed only fractional advances. Oils, utilities, aviations and coppers were firm. Warner Bros. was higher.

Bond prices were irregularly higher. Grains were soft and cotton somewhat irregular.

Expect Bethlehem Steel Dividend

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Bethlehem Steel Corporation directors meet this afternoon to announce earnings for the third quarter and act on dividends. Informed forecasts are that a dividend will be paid on the common stock for the first time since February, 1932, and that net for the September period will be the highest quarterly earnings in six years.

Applicant—I want to have an old house insured. I suppose there's no doubt about your paying the money if the house burns?

Agent—No. But of course we make a very careful investigation to determine how the fire started.

Applicant—Aw. I thought there was some catch in it.

LOST FIANCEE WHEN HE LOST HIS MOUSTACHE

(International News Service)

ROME—Melchior Mola was proud of his moustache and in love with his fiancee. Now he hasn't either any more. And that's going to cost two of his friends 19,500 lira, if he has his way about it.

Friend No. 1, says Mr. Mola in a suit here, carelessly held a candle close to his face and burned off the mustache.

Friend No. 2 remarked Mr. Mola had lost his beauty by the accident, and told the fiancee about it.

The fiancee agreed and broke off the engagement.

Now Mr. Mola wants 11,000 from the first friend for the loss of the moustache and the consequent loss of the best girl. Friend No. 2, he believes, ought to pay 8,500 lira for his libelous remarks.

GERMAN SMUGGLER FINED $5,000,000

(International News Service)

BERLIN—A Hamburg business man has been fined 12,100,000 marks (about $5,000,000) and sentenced to eight years' penal servitude for violation of Germany's foreign currency laws.

Four other business men, who were charged with being his accomplices, have been fined about $2,500,000 between them, and sentenced to prison terms ranging from five years, four years, two years, and nine months, respectively.

A special court, sitting in Hamburg, found that the five accused had succeeded in transferring to a foreign country almost the entire property of their principal.

RADIO-CONTROLLED CONVOYS AT FORT

(International News Service)

FORT LEWIS—Radio-controlled convoys were the feature of this year's practice marches for about one thousand soldiers from Fort Lewis.

The marches are held annually for training in speed maneuvers and transportation, as well as to give the public an idea of how its army spends its spare time.

The radio convoys which were tried out successfully this year allowed the troops to remain in contact at all times with the home station at Fort Lewis, despite the fact that many of them traveled to points more than a thousand miles distant.

Each train of trucks was accompanied by several radio cars, including the machines used by the commanding officers. With the radio cars constantly moving back and forth along the line of march, and then reporting by radio to the commanding officers, G. H. Q. was constantly informed about every section of the convoys. The commanders also were able to relay their information by radio to Fort Lewis.

SPEED SOLUTION— MAKE ROADS BUMPY

(International News Service)

MONROE, Mich.—Found! A solution to the speed problems on the highway. Put bumps in the road.

That, thinks Corp. Berdine la Pointe, of the state police post at Rockwood, will eliminate speeding.

The idea is that drivers will slow down rather than hit the bumps too fast.

La Pointe points out that there are bumps at intervals on the road at Indian Trails, a Michigan resort. And Indian Trails, emphasises the corporal, hasn't any speeding to contend with.

First Class Of Consistory Has Fine Gathering

Permanent Officers Are Elected And Plans Made For Future Meetings

IS NAMED FOR DR. A. W. URMSON

Members of the first class to receive their degrees in the Valley of New Castle Consistory, which took place at the reunion in the Senior high school, March 27, 28 and 29, 1918, gathered at the Cathedral last evening as the 59th reunion of the consistory assembled, and formed a permanent organization for the future.

There were 47 of the 258 surviving members of this first class present for the occasion, and a meeting was held in the west lodge room, where they were greeted by Commander in Chief S. Reed Megown, Lieutenant Commander John E. Elliott, who is also chairman of the serivce division; Samuel H. Hadley and Fred L. Rentz, members of this first class.

The memory of Dr. Allan W. Urmson, one of the charter members of the consistory, was honored when the class chose his name to designate the class by in the future. Albert B. Street was named president; Tilman R. Snedden, of Koppel, vice president; Edward A. Hennon, secretary and treasurer.

Originally there were 346 in the class, of which number 258 now remain. These men are now scattered over nine different states of the Union, and in 83 different cities. Two of their number, Samuel H. Hadley and Odd J. H. Hartsuff, have been elevated to the 33rd degree.

The class members voted to have social gatherings during the winter and to have more of the members out for the reunion next spring.

It is expected that other classes of the consistory will follow suit during the year in perfecting similar organizations.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Troop No. 6, of the Croton M. E. church held their weekly meeting Monday evening in the form of a Hallowe'en party, in the junior room of the church.

The opening was in charge of Bob Sizer and Bill Glover. At the business meeting plans were made for a hike on Saturday, October 31, which will take the place of the next troop meeting.

Members of the Troop will meet at the Paper Mill bridge, at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, where they will be met by the Scoutmaster and Scout leaders.

After the business meeting, games were played and refreshments were served, the evening closing with the scoutmaster's benediction.

TROOPS MEET TOGETHER

Troop 37 of the Boy Scouts paid off a friendly "bet" to the boys of Highland Troop 18 last night.

Here's the story:

Senior Patrol Leader David Taylor of 37, was confident that his troop would cinch first place in the county field meet last Saturday. He was confident enough to tell a Troop 18 man that the whole Troop 37 organization would submit to a spanking-machine ordeal at a Troop 18 meeting if it lost. It did lose and last night, living up to its promise, the troop visited 18 to take the medicine. And they did.

After the fun came competitive games in which the 36 scouts, seven leaders and one committeeman participated.

Troop 18's Seascout unit, Skipper Harry Miles reports, has resumed activity. It meets regularly every Thursday night at 7:30. Over the past week-end Skipper Miles and his two mates, George F. Winter, Jr., and Al Ubry, visited the Seascout ship "Silver Star" of the Altoona scout organization, in Altoona. That ship holds the rank of vice national flagship in Seascouting.
